EXPLANATION OF REGULAR STATISTICAL TABLES.

General imports.—The regular statement of imports of merchandise, by articles and countries, in this publication is what is termed the statement of general imports, embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse.

The term "entry for consumption" is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties have been paid on the dutiable portion.

The values of articles imported are governed by the regulations in force, approved May 1, 1899, which prescribe that the values of imported merchandise subject to duty shall be "the actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation in the principal markets of the country whence imported, and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation or consigned for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment."

Domestic exports.—The regular statement of domestic exports, by articles and countries, in this publication exhibits the exports of domestic products or manufactures, also exports of commodities of foreign origin which have been changed from the form in which they were imported or enhanced in value by further manufacture. The value of exports of domestic merchandise is their value at the time of exportation in the ports of the island whence they are exported.

Tonnage tables.—In the tables of tonnage movement the tonnage is stated in net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying space after the prescribed allowances are made for crew space, engine space, etc.

Weights.—In all tables published the ton weight is 2,240 pounds and the hundredweight is 112 pounds, unless indicated otherwise.

Customs districts.—Statements of imports, exports, and tonnage movement are shown by customs districts, which have a certain prescribed limit of territory with a port of entry.

NOTES.

THE SUGAR INDUSTRY.

[Gabriel Camps in September, 1900, Review of Agriculture.]

The damages caused to our great industry by the war have been greatly exaggerated. Without doubt the diminution of the crops and the paralysis of all work at many plantations have ruined their owners, just as a frost leaves in misery the orange growers or the grasshoppers or phylloxera other agriculturists. But the industry in its essentials is as powerful as ever, demonstrated by the announcement that the coming year we will make 500,000 tons, and the certainty, conceded by everyone, that inside three years our ports will again export the famous million tons of 1893. From the economic point of view, the burning of the mills as a strategic military measure, effected with neither system nor concert—if it produced military results, we have not known it—resulted a benefit to the country, admitted that there existed an enormous disproportion between the industrial facilities of the country and its agricultural means. We had excess of machinery and were short of cane. It might be affirmed that the majority of the mills did not elaborate 50 per cent of their productive capacity and none reached its maximum to our knowledge. Confining ourselves to the mills situated near the three railways Villanueva, Western, and Bahia, an example that might extend to all the rest, and where the damages were most intense, we see that the mills existing and in activity to-day are more than sufficient to grind all the cane that was harvested in their radii before the war. In the rest have disappeared San Antonio, Panalver, and other mills, but remain those of Fajardo, Pilar, and Fortuna, that have capacity to grind the cane produced by the other plantations as well as their own. The Pelayo, Averhoff, and Fernandez de Castro mills in Bahia can grind their own cane as well as that of the destroyed mills, Ulacia, Gonzalez, and Casanove, and with very little effort can take care of all the cane that can be produced from here to Matanzas on that side. At Villanueva, where the destruction was greatest, it is the same. San Augustin, Mi Rosa, San Jose, Teresa, Luisa, Gia, Herculano, Armonia, San Francisco, Alianza, Lima, Santa Rosa, Carmen, and others, all burned, are not necessary, as there remain Toledo, Julia, Providencia, Nombre de Dios, Armistad, Josefita, San Rafael, Jobo, Veresa, Canos, and Conchita, and we might arrive at 1,000,000 tons, and these mills would yet lack raw material to their capacity. If we direct ourselves to other districts of the islands we will find the same.

On all hands is seen the effects of the craze for the acquisition of machinery, and had we directed the efforts made in this direction to the agricultural progress of the country we should now be in its full enjoyment.

Cuba is now in possession of all her instruments of production, and undoubtedly in a short time will again reach her former position as the foremost producer of cane sugar in the world, with the advantage that her planters, well taught in the school of adversity, will obtain the maximum production with the major economy, the practice of which, fortunately, has begun in all parts. With a certain consumers' market like the United States, especially the Eastern States, cost of production cheapened, the establishment of new industries in the country, lesser freights—now that it is probable that we will need to order nothing from Europe, a reduction of our transportation facilities—the introduction of mules and light carts has been an object lesson that we owe to the interventors—the new plows, the central railway with branches to both coasts, and highways, certain to be, though possibly delayed more or less—with all this we say that the elaboration of sugar will be done under better conditions of convenience, economy, and profit.

We have no foreign competition, and only a hostile tariff can endanger our industry—a possibility that only finds place in the heads of professional politicians, envoys of misery and disaster. And we fear not, for the laws of nature are immutable and nature aids us. To the fertility of our soil we must add our climate and our geographical position—the two Americas on one side and Europe on the other. Here we have a perpetual spring—at times more humid than at others—to distinguish which we call from November to May winter, and the rest summer. Think of the economy that this supposes in heat, clothing, food, and the numerous needs that atmospheric changes carry with them, and we are convinced that this item must be placed to our credit. Feeding live stock, an important matter in other parts, here is exceedingly cheap. No stables are needed, though for collection of compost, etc., they are a convenience. We know not the diseases common to live stock in other parts, and any pasture is an abundant storehouse of free forage.

At the present and for some time to come we may enjoy the boon of low rents. With the rental that one hectare costs in any country in Europe one may enjoy here an hundred hectares, and when we remember that there is no plantation distant ten miles from the sea or a railway station we are satisfied that the long and narrow form of the island is a blessing.

What we lack is a little diligence and less pessimism. For us pessimism is an obsession. We were pessimists in the time of slavery, when sugar was a dollar—we are in this moment, when there dawns an unexampled cycle of credit, and, unless God wills otherwise, pessimists we will continue to be to the end of time. We want everything done for us, and ignorance is the close-pressed veil that covers many faces. A friend has said to us that more has been written and more is known of Cuba in the last two years than in the four hundred before; and representative men, who owe to sugar all that they are and all that they have, know as much of these matters as of the Antipodes. They fly from every enterprise that is not absolutely certain, and when a foreigner, brighter and quicker, brings to success a rich enterprise whose future is evident they lament in such phrases as "Poor Cuba!" "Absorption!" etc., without thinking that they make their ignorance patent and that they are more interested in keeping their pockets well closed than in all this talk of "country," "language," "race," etc., that from their lips is mere drivel.

Let us be optimists and get to work.

CROPS IN CUBA.

[From the Habana Post, November 15, 1900.]

The last weekly report of the Cuban weather bureau, division of the United States Department of Agriculture, shows crops throughout the island to be in good condition. The report follows:

Tobacco.—In Pinar del Rio and Habana province tobacco transplanting continued throughout the week under generally very favorable conditions. This work at the close of the week was drawing to a close in the vicinity of Pinar del Rio city and weeding of the early crop had commenced. In the vicinity of Guanajay the transplanted crop was somewhat injured by dry weather, and in the vicinity of San Felipe the work of transplanting was performed with some difficulty, due to the deficiency of rainfall. Both from Cruces and Santa Clara we receive reports to the effect that transplanting continues, and it is expected that a very large crop, possibly larger than last year's, will be put in if the weather conditions continue favorable. Transplanting also continued in eastern Santa Clara. A good rain would now be beneficial to all transplanted tobacco in that province. In southwestern Puerto Principe the crop was in urgent need of showers, but in the northwestern section of the province the weather of the week had been exceptionally favorable. Young plants are abundant in all the tobacco districts. Some setting is still under way at Guanajay.

Cane.—The cane crop, as a rule, is reported in a very satisfactory and encouraging condition throughout the sugar districts. The cool weather of the week was exceptionally opportune for the mature cane; however, at a number of points canes have not attained their full growth, and consequently they need more rain. The lack of rain in Habana, Matanzas, and Santa Clara provinces has not, with a few exceptions, materially retarded the growing crop. It is generally in a luxuriant condition, but stands very much in the need of the stimulus that a good rain would impart. This applies especially to the very recent plantings and replantings, notably in the vicinity of Banaguises.

Cleaning cane was actively carried forward in Santa Clara province and in northern Santiago de Cuba. Planting, replanting, and the preparation of ground received considerable attention, except in the greater part of Matanzas province, where the dry weather interfered with such operations. A large number of plantations throughout the various districts took advantage of the dry weather of the week to prepare for grinding. The consensus of opinion appears to be that the next grinding will produce a good yield.

Small crops, etc.—Small crops look well everywhere and are reported abundant. They are receiving considerable attention generally throughout the island, and the reports indicate that larger areas are being cultivated. Bananas are in a satisfactory condition. Coffee picking has begun in the Yateras district. Labor is reported scarce in Pinar del Rio and in the neighborhood of Santa Clara, but plentiful in the vicinity of Congojas, Santa Clara province.

[NOTE.—Beginning July 1, 1900, the statistical reports to the Division of Insular Affairs were based upon a new schedule, giving the classification of commodities imported and exported much more in detail than were required by the schedule in effect prior to that date. Owing to this change it is impossible to make comparison by articles and countries in some instances.]

MONTHLY SUMMARY

OF

COMMERCE OF THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

AUGUST, 1900.

PREPARED IN

DIVISION OF INSULAR AFFAIRS,
WAR DEPARTMENT.

WASHINGTON:
GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE.

EXPLANATION OF REGULAR STATISTICAL TABLES.

General imports.—The regular statement of imports of merchandise, by articles and countries, in this publication is what is termed the statement of general imports, embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse.

The term “entry for consumption” is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties have been paid on the dutiable portion.

The values of articles imported are governed by the regulations in force, approved May 1, 1899, which prescribe that the values of imported merchandise subject to duty shall be “the actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation in the principal markets of the country whence imported, and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation or consigned for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment.”

Domestic exports.—The regular statement of domestic exports, by articles and countries, in this publication exhibits the exports of domestic products or manufactures, also exports of commodities of foreign origin which have been changed from the form in which they were imported or enhanced in value by further manufacture. The value of exports of domestic merchandise is their value at the time of exportation in the ports of the island whence they are exported.

Tonnage tables.—In the tables of tonnage movement the tonnage is stated in net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying space after the prescribed allowances are made for crew space, engine space, etc.

Weights.—In all tables published the ton weight is 2,240 pounds and the hundredweight is 112 pounds, unless indicated otherwise.

Customs districts.—Statements of imports, exports, and tonnage movement are shown by customs districts, which have a certain prescribed limit of territory with a port of entry.

[NOTE.—Beginning July 1, 1900, the statistical reports to the Division of Insular Affairs were based upon a new schedule, giving the classification of commodities imported and exported much more in detail than were required by the schedule in effect prior to that date. Owing to this change it is impossible to make comparison by articles and countries in some instances.]

OF

COMMERCE OF THE ISLAND OF

SEPTEMBER, 1900.

PREPARED IN

DIVISION OF INSULAR AFFAIRS,

WAR DEPARTMENT.

WASHINGTON:

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE.

EXPLANATION OF REGULAR STATISTICAL TABLES.

General imports.—The regular statement of imports of merchandise, by articles and countries, in this publication is what is termed the statement of general imports, embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse.

The term “entry for consumption” is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties have been paid on the dutiable portion.

The values of articles imported are governed by the regulations in force, approved May 1, 1899, which prescribe that the values of imported merchandise subject to duty shall be “the actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation in the principal markets of the country whence imported, and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation or consigned for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment.”

Domestic exports.—The regular statement of domestic exports, by articles and countries, in this publication exhibits the exports of domestic products or manufactures, also exports of commodities of foreign origin which have been changed from the form in which they were imported or enhanced in value by further manufacture. The value of exports of domestic merchandise is their value at the time of exportation in the ports of the island whence they are exported.

Tonnage tables.—In the tables of tonnage movement the tonnage is stated in net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying space after the prescribed allowances are made for crew space, engine space, etc.

Weights.—In all tables published the ton weight is 2,240 pounds and the hundredweight is 112 pounds, unless indicated otherwise.

Customs districts.—Statements of imports, exports, and tonnage movement are shown by customs districts, which have a certain prescribed limit of territory with a port of entry.

OF

COMMERCE OF THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

OCTOBER, 1900.

PREPARED IN

DIVISION OF INSULAR AFFAIRS,

WAR DEPARTMENT.

EXPLANATION OF REGULAR STATISTICAL TABLES.

General imports.—The regular statement of imports of merchandise, by articles and countries, in this publication is what is termed the statement of general imports, embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse.

The term “entry for consumption” is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties have been paid on the dutiable portion.

The values of articles imported are governed by the regulations in force, approved May 1, 1899, which prescribe that the values of imported merchandise subject to duty shall be “the actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation in the principal markets of the country whence imported, and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation or consigned for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment.”

Domestic exports.—The regular statement of domestic exports, by articles and countries, in this publication exhibits the exports of domestic products or manufactures, also exports of commodities of foreign origin which have been changed from the form in which they were imported or enhanced in value by further manufacture. The value of exports of domestic merchandise is their value at the time of exportation in the ports of the island whence they are exported.

Tonnage tables.—In the tables of tonnage movement the tonnage is stated in net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying space after the prescribed allowances are made for crew space, engine space, etc.

Weights.—In all tables published the ton weight is 2,240 pounds and the hundredweight is 112 pounds, unless indicated otherwise.

Customs districts.—Statements of imports, exports, and tonnage movement are shown by customs districts, which have a certain prescribed limit of territory with a port of entry.

NOTES.

INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS IN SPAIN.

Consul-General Lay sends to the Department of State from Barcelona translations of a report recently made to the provincial council by a society of Barcelona manufacturers, upon the causes of the present industrial crisis in Spain and the means to remedy it. The report deals comprehensively with the development of Spanish manufacturing interests in the last ten years, giving tables of imports and exports in all the principal lines of trade. The following paragraphs are extracted:

LOSS OF THE COLONIAL MARKET.

The two industries that have suffered most through the loss of the colonies are those connected with cotton and flour, nearly the whole of their large production having been sent to that market. The cotton trade had its most profitable year in 1897, which immediately preceded the loss of the colonies; the following year its exports were reduced one-half, and though there are signs that efforts are being made to open up other markets, the results are slow and costly; meanwhile the spindles that prepared those 4,000,000 kilograms (8,818,400 pounds) and the looms that wove the output of those spindles for the colonial market must remain idle or manufacture for home consumption, causing overproduction, which has always been the cause of crises.

Among the various branches of the cotton trade, knitted goods are those that best hold their ground, finding their way to almost every market in the world.

After having been unable to export any flour to Cuba during the time that the commercial agreement with the United States was in force, when it lapsed in 1894 this branch of industry resumed its exports, which reached the highest figures in 1897, falling to one-third in the following year and disappearing altogether after the treaty of Paris. To-day, the flour mills, with their excellent machinery which furnished these exports, are no longer necessary, their output causing overproduction, from which the trade suffered severely last year.

Ropes and twine show diminishing exports from 1893, due partly to the commercial agreement with the United States and partly to the war which broke out in 1895.

The war was also responsible for the decline in the exports of woolen goods, linens, and silks which have fallen steadily and brought about a general crisis in these branches of trade, more especially in woolen, hemp, and linen manufactures. Silks were never exported in great quantities to the colonies, and during recent years new markets have been opened.

Linen textiles having accredited marks and specialties are able to hold their own in the Cuban market.

Since 1895, owing to the destruction of the sugar crops in the island, the exports of empty jute sacks to Cuba have suffered heavily; it is to be noted, however, that manufacturers have endeavored with some success to secure a share of the trade in other markets.

Boots and shoes, which represented our largest exports to Cuba, have since 1893 been met by the American competition, and during the past two years the exports have declined considerably. In 1898, the exports fell to nearly a third, but doubled themselves in 1899 and show signs of this year reaching an even higher figure. In the year 1893 this industry may be said to have been entirely dependent upon the colonial market, while in 1898 it had by dint of energy and perseverance obtained a footing in other markets, developing at the same time the home trade.

What we say of the boot and shoe trade is applicable also to the manufacture of barrels, the exports of which to the colonies fell to one-half after the outbreak of war; owing, however, to the rate of foreign exchange and to cheap labor, this industry has been able to find ample compensation elsewhere for the loss of its colonial market.

The exports of common soap, which reached their highest figures in 1894, have been maintained, though to a slightly reduced extent.

Although the exports of canned food stuffs to the colonies have diminished, the total exports have not suffered, as they have found other outlets.

Common wines show diminishing exports since 1893, having fallen to one-half with every indication of a further decline.

The trade in sausages, having been restricted to the colonies, is unable to compete with United States products, and is dying out.

The exports of stearin candles have steadily lessened since 1894 until they are now less than half of what they were, and will probably still further decrease, owing to the American competition.

Cigarette paper has been exported in diminishing quantities since 1896, its present best market being Mexico, as it was formerly. Our general exports kept up to the average for the five years prior to the war. In 1898, Mexico took twice the quantity we shipped to the colonies.

Playing cards attained their maximum exports in 1897, in spite of the war, but have since then steadily declined, not only with regard to the colonies, but also to other markets, which is due to the fact that playing cards are now manufactured in many parts of America.

We do not mention several other products, the exports of which were unimportant ; but, generally speaking, we may say that all have suffered by the loss of the colonies, as is proved by the fact that the exports to Cuba, which amounted to one hundred and thirty-six millions, were in the year 1898 reduced to sixty-six millions, those to Porto Rico fell from forty-four millions to thirteen millions, and those to the Philippines from forty-nine millions to only twenty-seven millions in 1898.

SPAIN'S HOME CONSUMPTION.

The report notes the general revival in Spanish trade which followed the signing of the treaty of Paris, which was fostered by the immigration of over 100,000 Spaniards with their capital. Although there was a decrease in exports to the colonies, this was not felt in Spain, as the home demand absorbed the surplus. The effects of the restricted consumption, however, were felt during the past year. Increase in taxation and the high prices for articles of necessity have aggravated the situation. As a solution of the crisis, an increase of exports, the growth of home consumption, and the perfecting of manufacture are urged.

INCREASE OF EXPORTS.

In regard to the increase of exports, the report says:

A close study of our tariff will show that it was drawn solely with a view to the imports, and to obtaining large receipts for the treasury, at the same time securing the home market for native products. In the whole tariff there is not a single article that is free of duty—not even the raw materials which are not produced in Spain and which are used for manufactures; not even are those chemicals free which are required to produce fertilizers, so indispensable to agriculture. Our present position requires that our tariff be revised from the point of view of exports, allowing free entry for, or at any rate reducing the duty on, all products used by our export trade.

If we fail to place our manufacturers on the same footing as their foreign rivals, it is out of the question that they should be able to compete with them in the cost of production.

Among other articles that pay high duties, we may mention mineral oils, potato starch, chlorate of lime ; raw cotton, abaca, raw jute, and other vegetable fibers ; hair, raw wool, raw and floss silk, raw hides and skins, amber, bones, and many other products that reach our market greatly enhanced in price by the tariff.

Although the law prohibits the levying of an "octroi," or municipal tax, on raw materials used in manufactures, it has been impossible to remove the tax on mineral oils and several other articles.

Against the cheapness of production we have also the new transport duty, which imposes a tax of 5 pesetas (80 cents) per ton on nearly all raw materials imported for manufacturing purposes when brought from Europe and from Mediterranean ports, or from Africa on the Atlantic coast as far as Cape Bojador ; when imported from any other country in the world, the duty is 7 pesetas ($1.12) per ton.

This tax is contrary to the extra duty which is levied on products other than European, but shipped from European ports ; seeing that, tallow and hides from the Argentine Republic ; cotton, coal, and staves from the United States ; nitrate of soda from Chile ; and raw jute from India all pay less duty if imported from European depots than if bought in the original markets.

It is needless to point out how prejudicial this is to our commerce, navigation, and manufactures, to the benefit of European intermediaries.

It is absolutely necessary that this transport duty be modified and that more exceptions be made in favor of those materials used in manufactures.

OPENING OF NEW MARKETS.

New markets are secured only at the cost of ceaseless efforts, and it is therefore idle to look for immediate relief in that direction, as it is impossible to improvise consumers.

Individual initiative is required to enable our products to find a sale in the world's markets, and much praise is due to the efforts being made by certain trades—such as those in knitted goods, canned edibles, soap, and fans—which are gradually working their way into foreign markets. The action of the State in this matter is restricted to obtaining advantages for our products by means of commercial treaties.

Seeing that we already have a market of our own in our ex-colonies, we should be able to retain the greater part of that trade, as we have in our favor not only the acquired tastes of the people, but also vested interests, a numerous Spanish population, and trade-marks that enjoy a certain preference.

Our present position with respect to the Antilles and Philippines is as follows: Cuba, subject to a military occupation pending the decision as to its future, grants us the same terms it does to other countries, including the United States; Porto Rico, since April 12, 1900, has applied the United States tariff to all foreign goods; and the Philippines treat us in the same way as all other countries, the United States included.

In regard to Cuba, we must watch closely the decision of its coming Parliament and at once enter into negotiations as soon as its independence is recognized. Should it be annexed to the United States, which is not likely, we shall have to seek for concession through a commercial treaty with the United States, which is what we must do to obtain concessions in Porto Rico.

With respect to the Philippines, we can only wait, seeing that according to the treaty of Paris any advantage conceded to the United States during ten years is to be at once extended to Spain.

The first thing to be is therefore to make a treaty of commerce with the United States, which might be based on our second tariff and the special concessions granted to Switzerland, Sweden and Norway, and Holland.

The granting of the second tariff to the United States (which now pays according to the first) would have the immediate effect of benefiting, among other of its products, its mineral oils, coals, minerals, staves, and machinery. Our ordinary tariff would allow these to compete with European products in several branches.

Of course, in order to extend the advantages of the treaty to Porto Rico, which is what principally interests us, we should have to grant special favors to the products of that island, particularly to coffee, which had its best market in Spain.

In arranging commercial treaties with the Spanish American States with a view to exclusive advantages to Spain, we are met by the serious difficulty that those countries desire to retain their commercial independence, seeing that they rely upon their customs receipts for most of their revenue, and also that any concession made to us would, by virtue of existing treaties, have to be extended to the other European nations.

We must not forget that to secure advantages in the Spanish American market, it is only fair that we also should grant concession to their products, thus establishing sound commerce.

Possibly these commercial arrangements might be aided by means of a minimum column in the tariff in favor of colonial products, which are now assessed at the same rate in the first as in the second column, and in favor of those countries that grant certain benefits in return. The immediate effect of this would be to enable us to at once come to some arrangement with Brazil, which has also two columns in its tariff and is becoming an important market for our export trade.

Italy has already done this, and if we fail to do the same, our products will be assessed in that market according to the maximum tariff.

Needless to say that lines of steamers are as important factors as commercial treaties and must be assisted at all costs, recourse being had to those means resorted to by other countries, for it is well known that trade follows the flag.

The State, when giving subventions or bounties to steamship companies, should first stipulate that the freight rates be no higher than those of foreign state-aided lines.

Among the markets we should pay special attention to are those in the East, where Italy has found a large outlet for her commerce. So far, we have overlooked those markets, although they are large suppliers of our own.

Roumania in 1897 sent 32,800 tons to Spain, valued at 4,878,379 pesetas ($780,000), and in 1898 43,507 tons, valued at 5,094,113 pesetas ($815,000), while we exported nothing to that country; and it is a lamentable fact that all the imports came in foreign bottoms.

Egypt exported to Spain, in 1897, 7,469 tons (all in foreign ships), valued at 8,475,000 pesetas ($1,350,000), and in 1898 2,294 tons of a declared value of 9,048,618 pesetas ($1,447,000), of which 1,053 tons came in foreign vessels ; our exports to Egypt being almost nil. We apply our maximum tariff to Roumania, Servia, Montenegro, and Greece, and it is therefore only natural that they should also charge us their highest duties.

Since the 13th of June, 1900, Servia has imposed her maximum tariff on imports from Turkey, which consisted of large quantities of wines and fruits ; Italy, having a commercial treaty with Servia, hopes to reap a great advantage for her commerce from this rupture.

Italy has also arranged a modus vivendi with Greece, which came into force on July 28, 1900. Spain could obtain with little effort the same benefits from these small eastern states by means of reciprocity treaties, which would not endanger our manufactures (as they are backward in their industries), but would offer an opening for our wines and fruits.

The report urges the establishment of an export bank with State aid ; reduction of taxation ; extension of agriculture in certain lines—tobacco, for instance ; the granting of temporary free entry to articles to be used in manufacture ; reorganization of labor ; and establishment of boards to arbitrate between capital and labor and decide other questions of importance to trade. The lack of technical personnel is noted among the causes of the backwardness of some of Spain's industries.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS OF MERCHANDISE, OCTOBER, 1900.

[NOTE.—Beginning July 1, 1900, the statistical reports to the Division of Insular Affairs were based upon a new schedule, giving the classification of commodities imported and exported much more in detail than were required by the schedule in effect prior to that date. Owing to this change it is impossible to make comparison by articles and countries in some instances.]

OF

COMMERCE OF THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

NOVEMBER, 1900.

PREPARED IN

DIVISION OF INSULAR AFFAIRS,

WAR DEPARTMENT.

EXPLANATION OF REGULAR STATISTICAL TABLES.

General imports.—The regular statement of imports of merchandise, by articles and countries, in this publication is what is termed the statement of general imports, embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse.

The term “entry for consumption” is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties on the dutiable portion have been paid.

The values of articles imported are governed by the regulations in effect May 1, 1899, which prescribe that the values of imported merchandise subject to duty shall be “the actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation in the principal markets of the country from whence imported, and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation or consigned for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment.”

Domestic exports.—The regular statement of domestic exports, by articles and countries, in this publication exhibits the exports of domestic products or manufactures, also exports of commodities of foreign origin which have been changed from the form in which they were imported or enhanced in value by further manufacture.

The value of exports of domestic merchandise is their value at the time of exportation in the ports of the island whence they are exported.

Tonnage tables.—In the tables of tonnage movement the tonnage is stated in net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying space after the prescribed allowances are made for crew space, engine space, etc.

Weights.—In all tables published the ton weight is 2,240 pounds and the hundredweight is 112 pounds, unless indicated otherwise.

Customs districts.—Statements of imports, exports, and tonnage movement are shown by customs districts, which have a certain prescribed limit of territory with a port of entry.

NOTES.

(From the 16th annual report of the "Bureau of Animal Industry," United States Department of Agriculture.)

Mr. Luther T. Ellsworth, Consul at Puerto Cabello, says:

"Since my report of November 3, 1898, steamers have left this port loaded with 3,701 cattle for Cuban market. Messrs. Silveria & Co., Hayana, Cuba, through their agents, Nadle & Roca, have closed another contract with responsible cattle owners in the State of Miranda, Venezuela, for 24,000 head of cattle, which makes the stock now ready for shipment about 36,000 head.

"The cattle of this firm are to be delivered at a small station on the Caracas and Valencia Railway near Valencia, and will be shipped from there to this port via the Caracas and Valencia and Puerto Cabello and Valencia railways.

"The house of A. Braschi & Sons has entered this Cuban cattle trade and will ship to Cienfuegos, Santiago de Cuba, and other ports in Cuba several cargoes of selected stock within the next thirty days. The senior of the firm of Braschi & Sons is Consul for Italy at this port, and the firm has branch houses in Barquisimeto and Valencia, which are directed by the principal house at this port.

"I have been informed that the house of Boulton, owners of the Red D Line of American steamers, is contemplating taking a hand in this Cuban cattle trade if they can secure the necessary steamers, but cannot at this writing give more information as to the extent of their operations.

"I am glad to report that the way of loading the cattle into steamers by hoisting them with rope and pulley, the pulley hooked into a rope around the base of the horns of the animal, allowing the whole weight to be held up by the horns, has been abandoned. All the steamers now used in the cattle trade have ports large enough to allow of driving the cattle through them.

The first steamers sent to Cuba lost in transit from 10 to 38 head, and I think the cause of the death of the majority was the injuries they received through being loaded in the manner above described. Since the loading by hoisting was abandoned the loss of cattle in transit has been very small."

THE MANUFACTURE AND EXPORTATION OF TASAJO, (JERKED BEEF) BY RIVER PLATA COUNTRIES.

(From the 16th annual report of the "Bureau of Animal Industry," United States Department of Agriculture.)

The manufacture and exportation of tasajo, or jerked beef, by the River Plata countries was of little interest to the people of the United States previous to our acquirement of Porto Rico and the establishment of close relations with Cuba. The fortunes of war having placed these islands under the care and protection of this country, our commercial men have quite naturally looked to them as new markets for our products; and the manufacturer of meat products has been no less interested than others. Tasajo is one of the principal articles of diet of these islands; it is, indeed, owing to its keeping qualities, their principal meat supply.

While the conditions which obtain in the River Plata countries will probably always prevent competition from the United States in the tasajo industry, even in Porto Rico and Cuba, an interest in the industry has been aroused and inquiries must be answered. Reports on the various phases of tasajo manufacture and exportation have been furnished the Department of State by Hon. Francois S. Jones, charge d' affaires ad interim, Buenos Ayres, Hon. Albert W. Swalm, consul at Montevideo, and Hon. William I. Buchanan, minister to Argentina, and the facts of this article are a compilation of those reports.

HOW TASAJO IS MADE.

The method of making tasajo is simple, the chief agents in producing it being sun, salt, and air. The weight of the cattle killed for this purpose ranges from 750 to 950 pounds, and the age from 3 to 4 years. A carcass yields four pieces of tasajo--the fore quarters and the two sides, called mantas. These are cut into strips varying in thickness from $1\frac{1}{2}$ to $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches, the principle being to cut the meat with the grain. These pieces are placed under shelter to cool for two or three hours, and are then immersed in highly salted water from five to ten minutes. On the next day they are spread out and salted on the lean side, the salt being well rubbed in. On the third day the other side is salted in like manner. On the fourth day the salt is removed, and the pieces are piled layer upon layer. On the fifth day they are again dipped into a bath to remove all grains of salt, and are again piled layer upon layer in the open air to a height of from 10 to 12 feet in squares or parallelograms of from 15 by 25 feet in dimension. The whole of the process of making previous to the piling up is conducted under shelter in buildings open on all sides. These piles are covered on the top with a canvass, held down with big stones to prevent the wind from removing it, and gradually to weight down the meat in order to press out the remaining superfluous juices which trickle down the sides and form small pools around the bottom of the pile.

The time required for completing the process is dependent on the weather. The only operation necessary for the completion is to remove the pieces separately from the pile and hang them over wooden railings erected for the purpose. These pieces are removed every night and piled, and others from the first pile are placed on the railings; thus the piles are reversed. Three or four such exposures to the sun and air are considered sufficient, in summer months, to obtain the Brazilian quality of tasajo. The Cuban quality of tasajo requires longer exposure and desiccation--about four or five exposures. In summer the meat is hung out on clear days from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., and in the spring and autumn from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. The greatest caution is taken to avoid its exposure during hours when dew is noticeable, as this spoils the meat.

The tasajo made for the Brazilian trade is the fatter kind, and the shrinkage is from 43 to 45 per cent., while the shrinkage for that made for the West Indies trade is from 50 to 52 per cent. The separation of these classes is made during the process of exposure. The price of the tasajo sent to Cuba is therefore from 10 to 15 per cent.

higher than that sent to Brazil. The price of tasajo ranges from $6.50 in gold per 105 pounds, not including packing charges. Transportation charges should be added in estimating the cost in Cuba. The normal freight charges to Cuba range from $8.76 to $9.73 per ton.

KIND AND PRICES OF CATTLE USED.

The animals used for the production of tasajo are chiefly of the criollo, or native breed, though some mestizo, or mixed breeds, are also used. Steers and cows are used indiscriminately, though the product from the cows is alleged to be somewhat the better.

Apart from the influence which the supply of and demand for cattle must always necessarily have, the weight and quality of the animal naturally play an important part in determining the price of tasajo cattle. Consul Swalm reports the following prevailing prices by classes: Full grown oxen, 5 to 6 years old, from $13.75 to $21, with an average of $17; steers younger than the oxen class, from $8 to $22, with an average of $17.50; cows of all ages, from $8 to $13, with an average of $10.50.

The slaughtering season begins in October and ends in June. The numbers of cattle killed for tasajo in the provinces of Buenos Ayres and Entre Rios, Argentina, in the last four seasons were, according to Mr. F. S. Jones, as follows:

NUMBERS OF CATTLE KILLED FOR TASAJO IN BUENOS AYRES AND ENTRE RIOS, ARGENTINA, 1896-1899.

KILLING SEASON.	Buenos Ayres.	Entre Rios.	Total.
	Number.	Number.	Number.
1896	209,500	199,600	408,900
1897	240,900	170,500	420,400
1898	105,700	169,800	275,500
1899	100,600	150,200	250,800

THE NUMBER OF CATTLE KILLED FOR TASAJO IN URUGUAY DURING THE SAME PERIOD WAS AS FOLLOWS:

1896	No. 316,700	1898	No. 311,800
1897	303,400	1899	306,400

The price of Uruguayan cattle is usually from 10 to 15 per cent. higher than those of Argentina; this difference is due to the superiority of Uruguayan over Argentina cattle. Mr. Swalm states that the average price of cattle sold in Uruguay, all kinds of cattle considered, is $15 per head. (Cattle are always sold by the head, not by weight.) The prices of cattle per 100 pounds in Kansas City, for January, 1899, show how much more valuable are the cattle of the United States than those of the River Plata countries, and are as follows:

Heavy native steers	$ 5.15 to $ 6.65	Canners	$ 2.00 to $ 2.75
Medium	4.50 5.15	Western steers	3.75 4.95
Light steers	4.30 5.00	Texans	3.60 4.65
Cows	2.75 4.15

Fat cattle are not much used in the making of tasajo, but cows, lean oxen, and steers are employed. Although these cattle do not represent the highest market value, they are in weight quite equal to the Kansas City standard, for the reason that most of them are Shorthorn and Hereford crosses. Therefore the buyer of cattle for tasajo in Uruguay pays on an average of only about one-third for his animals that any competitor anywhere else pays for substantially the same animals. To state it otherwise, he starts in with an advantage in cost of fully 66 per cent. in his favor, to say nothing about the climatic conditions which make more favorable the safe handling of the meat in all its stages, and which make losses next to impossible from taint or rot. These are conditions that should be considered well by any who may be thinking of competing in the Cuban markets with this class of meat products.

DOUBT OF SUCCESSFUL COMPETITION FROM THE UNITED STATES.

Mr. Buchanan expresses the hope that tasajo might be replaced in Cuba by our own beef cured in a similar manner, but says of tasajo itself: "I am free to say that the cheap live stock from which it is produced can be more advantageously bought in large numbers here (Argentina) than with us. Besides, I do not think it will be very easy to dislodge tasajo from any tropical market, since it is the only cheap form in which beef can be kept in that climate for a long period of time. It is, therefore, I believe, a trade that will increase rather than decrease in Cuba and other tropical islands, and should have our careful study." Mr. F. S. Jones, writing along the same line, states: "The demand for tasajo must continue to prevail, for it will prove difficult, indeed, to discover a substitute for it in any tropical market, since it is the only cheap form in which beef can be kept at such points for a long time without deterioration. I hardly think that the United States can even at present compete advantageously with the tasajo industry of the River Plata, the lower price of cattle, the cheapness of labor, and the climatic advantages here being too great to be even offset by any mechanically improved methods of preparation which we might apply."

EXPORTS OF TASAJO FROM ARGENTINA.

The following table, copied from Mr. F. S. Jones' article already referred to, shows the quantity and value of exports of tasajo from Argentina for the years 1889 to 1898, inclusive:

The above tables do not specify the exports of tasajo to Porto Rico, but such exports are no doubt included in those for Cuba. Tasajo is largely used in Porto Rico, as the conditions there, as well as in Cuba, prevent to a great extent the use of meat in other forms.

CULTIVATION OF COFFEE IN THE PROVINCE OF MALAGA.

Mr. Benj. H. Ridgely, Consul at Malaga, under date of February 8, 1901, in his report to the Department of State, says:

"The cultivation of coffee for commercial purposes is about to be undertaken for the first time in the province of Malaga, at the little village of Campanillas, some five miles from the capital. Don Quirico Lopez, a rich wine merchant of Malaga, will begin by setting out from 20,000 to 50,000 coffee plants on his plantations there.

"As long as Cuba and Porto Rico were Spanish possessions, the cultivation of coffee in the peninsula of Spain was forbidden, but under present conditions the Government interposes no objection. Senor Lopez has already made some experiments, and is convinced that coffee can be advantageously grown in this province, and elsewhere in Andalusia. Others who have examined the question claim that there is not sufficient humidity in the Andalusian climate. Practical experiments on a large scale will be made, and the result is awaited with great interest.

"Cuba and Porto Rico formerly supplied Spain with nearly all her coffee, paying the Government a consumption tax of 60 pesetas per 100 kilograms ($9.60 per 220.46 pounds) on all coffee entering the peninsula. At present the import duty on coffee is 140 pesetas ($22.40) per 100 kilograms from all countries except from the Spanish island of Fernando Po, and Spain's supply last year came largely from Valparaiso and other South American ports. Coffee from Fernando Po pays a duty of 105 pesetas ($16.80) per 100 kilograms.

"If coffee can be successfully cultivated in the province of Malaga, it is believed that it will be generally grown throughout Andalusia."

PROGRESS IN CIGAR CONSOLIDATION—NEGOTIATIONS UNDER WAY WITH THE HAVANA-AMERICAN COMPANY.

(From the New York Journal of Commerce, May 1, 1901.)

The gigantic consolidation of cigar manufacturing interests will, it is expected, be announced to-morrow. The American Cigar Company, itself a consolidation of many factories and closely allied with the so-called tobacco trust, is at the head of the scheme. At least seven other firms, now united under the name of the Havana-American Company, are to be absorbed, and in addition, it is reported, five or six other large factories have already been bought. Wm. J. Seidenberg, the head of the firm of Eugene Vallens & Co., the local branch of the Havana-American Company, is in New York negotiating the details of the transfer. The total capital in the "combine" will represent upward of $60,000,000. This much is assured, and if other "deals," as prophesied, are brought to a head, the aggregate will reach $100,000,000.

At the office of the Havana-American Company yesterday it was admitted that negotiations were under way for the acquisition of the company by the American Cigar Company, but it was stated that the deal was not yet completed, and that some time would be needed to bring out a consolidation, should one be effected.

The Havana-American Company has an authorized capital of $10,000,000, of which $3,000,000 is preferred stock. About $1,000,000 each of common and preferred, however, remain in the treasury of the company. The company's output of cigars is said to be about 140,000,000 to 150,000,000 annually.

ERECTION OF A NEW SUGAR PLANT.

(From the New York Journal of Commerce, May 8, 1901.)

Charles Buckland, chief engineer for Hugh Kelly, the well-known sugar expert of this city, has just returned from Cuba, where he has been for several months past superintending the erection of the Banes sugar plant for the United States Fruit Company. The equipment, which has a daily capacity for handling 1,500 tons of cane, and turning out 1,100 bags of sugar, includes six 3-roller mills, built by the Farrel Foundry and Machine Company, of Ansonia, Conn.; six engines, aggregating 2,400 horse-power, furnished by the Harrisburg Foundry and Machine Works, of Harrisburg, Pa.; Climax boilers, made by the Clonbrook Iron Works, of Brooklyn, and pumps supplied by Thomas Lewis, of New York city. The structural material for the buildings—some 800 tons—was furnished by Milliken Brothers, of this city. The entire plant, the contracts for which were all placed in this country, involved an expenditure not far short of $1,000,000. It is reported that the United States Fruit Company purport making considerable additions to the plant in the near future.

EXPRESS BUSINESS WITH THE UNITED STATES.

(From the April, 1901, Bulletin of the Bureau of American Republics.)

It is reported that, by a recent agreement between the Cuban and Pan-American Express Company and the Southern Express Company, the latter gets a through service for Cuban fruits. This service includes steamer transportation between Havana, Cuba, and Tampa, Florida, and railway transportation from Tampa to New York and the East, as well as to Chicago and the Northwest. In return the Cuban Express Company gets poultry, eggs, and fresh-meat shipments from the United States for Cuban cities. Heretofore all express shipments have stopped at Tampa, and reshipment by freight was the only service open to shippers from the United States. Cuban cities consume large quantities of poultry. Over 40,000 cases of eggs, 30 dozen to the case, were imported by Cuba in 1900. They retailed at from 2 to 4 cents each in the markets of Havana. Several Southern commission merchants have already established branches on the island.

EXHIBIT OF SPANISH GOODS IN HABANA AND NEW YORK.

Consul-General Lay transmits from Barcelona, to the State Department, under date of April 1, 1901, translation of a cutting from the Diario de Comercio of that city, relative to a proposed exhibit of Spanish products in Habana and New York, as follows:

"This exposition will consist purely of peninsular products, natural and industrial, and will have in view the furtherance of the development of Spanish trade.

"It is admitted that, although all our industrial products are not able to compete with those of other countries, some can easily do so.

"New York and Habana are indicated because they are well adapted to form the base of commercial transactions with Central America, Mexico, and the United States.

"In Habana, this trade exposition would meet a real necessity in counteracting as far as possible the spread of American manufactures in the Cuban market, keeping up the commercial relations with Spain corresponding to her powers of production.

"In New York, the main object of the exposition would be to supply the market with the enormous quantities of minerals that lie in the subsoil of Spain, thus aiding the mining industries that are being developed in the peninsula."

NEW STEAMSHIP LINE.

(From the April, 1901, Bulletin of the Bureau of American Republics.)

According to the "Handels Museum," the Societe des Affreteurs Reunis, of Paris and Havre, has recently established a regular line between Antwerp, Havre, Havana, Vera Cruz, Tampico, Progreso, and New Orleans. The sailings of this line will, for the present, be monthly, and the Spanish steamers of the Clazarri Navigation Company, of Bilbao, will be employed. The steamers will sail the 30th of each month from Antwerp, and on the 5th from Havre. The first sailing from Antwerp will take place the 30th of March, and from Havre on the 5th of April, etc., arriving in New Orleans the 15th of May. On the return trip from New Orleans the steamer will sail the 1st of June, and arrive at Havre the 20th.

* Apparent loss in exports to the United States is accounted for from the fact that during the first 9 months of 1899 about $7,000,000 worth of tobacco and cigars destined for the United Kingdom was shipped via New York and reported to this division as exports to the United States, the countries of ultimate destination not being given.

OF

COMMERCE OF THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

DECEMBER, 1900.

PREPARED IN

DIVISION OF INSULAR AFFAIRS,

WAR DEPARTMENT.

EXPLANATION OF REGULAR STATISTICAL TABLES.

General imports.—The regular statement of imports of merchandise, by articles and countries, in this publication is what is termed the statement of general imports, embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse.

The term “entry for consumption” is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties on the dutiable portion have been paid.

The values of articles imported are governed by the regulations in effect May 1, 1899, which prescribe that the values of imported merchandise subject to duty shall be “the actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation in the principal markets of the country from whence imported, and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation or consigned for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment.”

Domestic exports.—The regular statement of domestic exports, by articles and countries, in this publication exhibits the exports of domestic products or manufactures, also exports of commodities of foreign origin which have been changed from the form in which they were imported or enhanced in value by further manufacture.

The value of exports of domestic merchandise is their value at the time of exportation in the ports of the island whence they are exported.

Tonnage tables.—In the tables of tonnage movement the tonnage is stated in net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying space after the prescribed allowances are made for crew space, engine space, etc.

Weights.—In all tables published the ton weight is 2,240 pounds and the hundredweight is 112 pounds, unless indicated otherwise.

Customs districts.—Statements of imports, exports, and tonnage movement are shown by customs districts, which have a certain prescribed limit of territory with a port of entry.

MACHINERY ORDERS.

(From the Commercial Bulletin, June 11, 1901.)

Vice-President Bronder, of the Krawjewski-Pesant Co., has returned from Cuba, where he recently went for the purpose of superintending the floating of the new dry-dock at Havana. On his arrival here he left for Toronto but returns to New York to-morrow, when, it is understood, various fair-sized machinery orders will be given out.

SUGAR MACHINERY FOR CUBA.

(From the Commercial Bulletin, June 11, 1901.)

The Krewjewski-Pesant Co., of this city, yesterday received a contract by cable for a complete plant to be utilized for the crystalizing of sugar in motion, for one of the largest plantations located in the province of Havana, Cuba. The order, which is valued at about $45,000, includes eight crystalizers, engines, air compressors, tanks, piping and platforms to sustain the machinery. Part of the machinery will be turned out at the Erie Basin Works, while the balance will be sublet by the Krewjewski-Pesant Co. Several orders are said to have been received by last Cuban mail for saw-mill equipments, etc.

NEW STEAMER'S TRIAL TRIP.

(From the Commercial Bulletin, June 4, 1901.)

Monterey, of Ward Line, Meets Speed Requirements.

After an unusually successful speed trial the steamship Monterey, built at Cramps' shipyard for the New York & Cuba Mail Line, arrived at Philadelphia yesterday morning with figures upon her smokestack indicating that the maximum speed developed by her was 18.47 knots. That record was made off the Delaware Breakwater, and in the run at sea which followed the ship easily met the requirements of her contract, averaging seventeen knots an hour for four hours. The machinery of the Monterey worked admirably throughout the trip, and in all respects she demonstrated that she is the equal of her sister, the Esperanza, also built at Cramps'.

As the new ship is to carry mail, she is built under Government requirements. The new ship is 341 feet long between perpendiculars, her beam is 47 feet 6 inches, draft 20 feet, and displacement 6,325 tons. She has vertical inverted triple expansion engines, the cylinders of which are 23½, 39 and 65 inches respectively, with 42-inch stroke. She is fitted with four Scotch boilers. Her net tonnage is 4,702. It is expected that she will be on the line within a month, to ply between New York, Havana and Mexican ports. Accommodations are provided for 112 first-class, 60 second-class, and 48 steerage passengers. Electric lighting is used throughout, 520 lights being distributed through the ship.

SUGAR FACTORIES AT BANES, CUBA.

(From the Commercial Bulletin, June 8, 1901.)

It was reported yesterday that the United Fruit Co. was considering the advisability of extending the capacity of its sugar factories at Banes, Cuba. The existing plant was completed but some two months ago, at a cost of nearly $750,000. Charles Buckland, the chief engineer for Hugh Kelly, the well-known sugar expert, who undertook the contract for the erection and equipment of the entire plant, returned recently from Cuba. One of the features of the Banes factory is that everything, with the exception of the crushers, is operated by electricity. The plant consists of a battery of 2,400 horse-power Climax boilers, built by the Clonbrock Boiler Works, Brooklyn. The mills and crushers were manufactured by the Farrel Foundry & Machine Co. The pumping equipments were supplied by Thomas A. Lewis, of New York city. The engines for the electrical plant, comprising three simple automatic high-speed horizontal centre-crank machines of 160 indicated horse-power each, came from the Ridgway Engine & Dynamo Company, of Ridgway, Pa., and three 100-kilowatt generators were furnished, as well as several motors for driving the various machinery, by the General Electrical Company.

SUGAR PRODUCTION OF CUBA.

(From Summary No. 10, Series 1900-1901, Treasury Bureau of Statistics.)

The following table shows the annual sugar crop of Cuba since 1885, stated in gross tons of 2,240 pounds each. The values are here stated in American currency, the figures as originally published in the Revista de Agricultura having been reduced at the rate of 92.6 cents per gold peso. It will be observed that the production increased from 631,967 tons in 1885 to over 1,000,000 tons in 1894 and 1895, following which years the yearly product has been less than half the average annual crop of the decade 1885-1894. The price per ton reached its highest figure in 1889, when it stood at $82.65 per ton. In 1893 the value was $72.90 per ton, following which date it showed a decidedly downward tendency until 1899, being in that year $51.37 per ton, but rising in 1900 to $58.59 per ton. The table is as follows:

WEST INDIA COAL TRADE.

Experiment With Barges as Carriers in Place of Steamers.

(From the Journal of Commerce, May 14, 1901.)

The seagoing tug Cuba, recently launched at Bath, Me., has arrived at Philadelphia, towing the new barges Cardenas and Matanzas. The barges have a capacity of 3,000 tons each and will be used in the West India coal trade. This innovation is regarded with considerable interest in shipping circles, as the barges, if successful, may, it is said, prove dangerous rivals to the coal carrying steamers and schooners.

MARKET BUILDINGS AT MATANZAS.

(From the Journal of Commerce, May 14, 1901.)

"The City of Matanzas, Cuba, will soon have large market buildings, the structural material for which will be purchased in the United States. F. Stuart Williamson, engineer, of 25 Broad street, New York city, has prepared plans which have been submitted to the authorities of the Cuban city, and contracts for the buildings, etc., are expected to be awarded inside of thirty days. The American Bridge Company, it is understood, will be invited to bid on the work, as will also Flint, Eddy and American Trading Co., of this city. The contracts to be let will mean an expenditure of some $200,000."

COLOMBIAN EXPORT DUES ON CATTLE.

"Minister Hart, of Bogota, under date of May 2, 1901, cables the State Department that the Colombian Government has decreed an export duty on cattle of $20 gold per head. Cuba, he adds, is a large buyer of Colombian cattle."

NEW YORK OFFICES OF MESSRS. BOLIVAR S. ROMERO & CO., EXPORT AND IMPORT MERCHANTS.

(From the Commercial Bulletin, May 14, 1901.)

"Messrs. Bolivar S. Romero & Co., export and import merchants of No. 87 O'Reilly street, Havana, Cuba, have just opened offices in this city at Nos. 80 and 82 Pine street. The object of the New York office is to increase the shipment of American manufactured products to the island and to further the interests of the concern through Latin-American countries. Bolivar S. Romero, prior to the Spanish-American war, was connected with the export trade here, and S. Rothenberg, the other member of the firm, was for fifteen years with the house of Blumenthal Bros. & Co., of this city."

IRON ORE.

(From the Commercial Bulletin, May 17, 1901.)

"A vessel loaded with iron ore from Bilbao, Spain, is on its way to Philadelphia, a paper of that city says, and is to take back to Spain a cargo of American steel rails, the first shipment to that country. These will be shipped from the mills near Baltimore, which are running on foreign ores, and largely if not entirely on foreign orders for rails. It would be rather interesting to know that Spanish ore was coming to this country to be turned into rails for use in Spain, which is about what the transaction comes to, even though the particular lot of rails to go to Spain were rolled before this cargo of ore arrives. It is the Cuban ore chiefly that is used at Sparrows Point. In the last fiscal year the imports of iron ore were nearly a million tons, all with a trifling exception being delivered at Philadelphia and Baltimore, the former taking rather more than the latter. Of this ore 384,793 tons came from Cuba, 319,175 from Spain, and 108,000 tons in all came from Italy, French Africa, and Greece, in the order named."

LIGHT AND POWER PLANT FOR SANTIAGO.

(From the Commercial Bulletin, May 24, 1901.)

"Eduardo J. Chibas, civil engineer, of Guantanamo, Cuba, according to reports, proposes to build a light and power plant for Santiago de Cuba, to comprise 240 arc lights, 6,000 incandescent lights and 200 horse-power, to be furnished to small consumers in and around the city. A complete steam plant will be installed, but later the power will be transmitted from the Guaso River waterfalls, about seventy-five miles distant, where there is an available head of 600 feet in less than two miles, which can develop a minimum of 1,500 horse-power in the extreme dry season."

NEW CAR SHOPS AT CARDENAS.

(From the Commercial Bulletin, April 30, 1901.)

The Jucaro-Cardenas Railway Company, which is a Spanish concern operating a road between these two Cuban points, has just placed a contract with local concerns for the erection and equipment of new car shops situated at Cardenas, to replace the buildings recently burnt. Milliken Bros., of this city, are said to have secured the contract for the structural material required for the projected works, which are to be 320 feet long by 75 feet wide. T. F. Rogers & Co., of New York city, have obtained the contract for the equipment of the Cardenas shops, and have already arranged for the subletting of some of the machinery to be installed. The Erie Engine Company, of Erie, Pa., is to build a 120-horse power automatic cut-off engine and two 70-horse power portable boilers. Two large saw-mills are to be supplied by the Lane Manufacturing Co., of Montpelier, Conn. The Rogers firm is now placing orders for 15 wood-working machines. There will be planing matchers and moulding machinery as well as mortisers, boring machines, saw-tables, etc.

BOOT AND SHOE INDUSTRY IN SPAIN.

Mr. Julius G. Lay, Consul-General at Barcelona, in his report to the Department of State, dated January 16, 1901, says:

Among the Spanish industries that have been affected by the result of the war with the United States, and the consequent loss of the protected market in the colonies, few will suffer more than the boot and shoe trade. Statistics show that since peace was effected, Spain has shipped considerable quantities of footwear both to Cuba and the Philippines, but the United States manufacturers have already obtained a footing in these islands; and it is with a view to aiding them in their efforts to develop this trade that I have thought a brief statement of the present condition of this industry in Spain might serve to indicate how competition may be met.

EXPORTS.

The exports of boots and shoes from this country during the past three years and the first half of 1900 are as follows:

YEAR.	Quantity.	Value.
	Tons.	Dollars.
1897.....	1,162	3,322,697
1898.....	560	1,281,001
1899.....	960	2,196,997
1900 (first half).....	567	1,298,061

The statistics published by the War Department at Washington are clearer and tabulated in such a way as to show the countries from which the imports are received. Thus according to the returns furnished up to the month of March, 1900, the United States had shipped to Cuba during the nine months ended March 31, 1900, 431,112 pairs of shoes and sandals, valued at $376,004, while during the same period Spain had sent 2,731,107 pairs, valued at $1,355,826.

Under the heading of boots, the United States sent to Cuba 337 pairs, valued at $731, and Spain 13,689 pairs, of a declared value of $7,491.

These figures show that it is in the better qualities that the United States manufactures have begun to make their competition felt in Cuba, the average value of their boots being $2.16 per pair, as compared with 54.6 cents, the average price per pair sent from Spain; while the average value of the shoes per pair is 87.2 and 49.6 cents, respectively.

Turning to the imports into the Philippines, we find that during the same nine months Spain sent 3,631 pairs of boots, valued at $7,529, an average of $2.03 per pair, as against 995 pairs, valued at an average of $3.49 a pair, sent from the United States. Spain also sent 34,402 pairs of shoes and sandals, as compared with 743 pairs received from the United States.

The export trade may be said to be confined to Barcelona and the Balearic Islands; for, although there are numerous boot and shoe factories in many of the large towns in Spain, their efforts are confined to supplying the home market, and so far they have made but little attempt to compete abroad.

The footwear principally exported to Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines is ladies' and children's light shoes, the inner soles often being made of pasteboard. The average price of women's shoes is from $3.60 to $4.30 per dozen pairs, less 10 per cent. discount, goods delivered at Tarragona.

For exportation, shoes are usually packed in pairs in small cardboard boxes, about 10 dozen of which are placed in a large wooden case. This packing costs from $3 to $6, according to the size of the case and the style of cardboard box.

The freight on shoes from Barcelona to ports in Cuba or Porto Rico is \$6 per cubic meter ($35\frac{1}{3}$ cubic feet), plus 10 per cent. primage. To Manila the rate is \$7.50, plus 10 per cent. primage.

The principal foreign markets at present for Spanish boots and shoes are the late colonies, but exports are also made to eastern Europe, to Morocco and Tunis and to Central America.

MANUFACTURES, WAGES, ETC.

Within the last few years, the fashion of wearing canvas shoes has influenced, to a considerable extent, the sale of the prepared leather for the "uppers" of cheap summer footwear. The climate of Spain in the summer months greatly favors the wearing of these light canvas shoes, which are elegantly made in white or brown and sold at any price from $1 to $3 a pair. The soles are of leather and usually the uppers are ornamented and strengthened by leather tips and cross-bands.

Thirty years ago, leather boots and shoes were never worn by the laboring classes. Sandals made of coarse canvas, with hemp soles, were universally worn, and are so even to-day in the country districts; in the towns, however, they have been replaced by cheap leather boots and shoes. In Barcelona and the surrounding district, there are about 20 boot and shoe factories—12 being located in the city itself—employing about 2,000 men and 500 women and turning out large quantities of machine-made goods.

The boots and shoes made for export are divided into three classes: (1) those made with leather soles and uppers of glazed leather, calf or kid, but not of sheepskin; (2) those made of sheepskins and half-cardboard inner soles; (3) shoes of sheepskins and all-cardboard inner soles.

The wages paid are as follows: For putting together men's boots and nailing on the soles, 75 to 90 cents per dozen, according to the kind of leather, the workman supplying the nails; ladies' boots, 60 to 70 cents; children's, from 45 to 53 cents a dozen.

The wages paid to women who sew the uppers together on sewing machines are: Men's boots, 75 to 90 cents per dozen, according to the kind; ladies' boots, 53 to 60 cents per dozen, according to kind; children's boots, 30 to 45 cents per dozen, according to kind. The women pay for the silk and sewing thread, and most of the work is done at home.

The cutter and finishers in the factories, however, earn a fixed weekly wage, varying between $2.60 and $3.60. The working-day is of ten hours, or sixty hours a week.

A small, illy organized trade union exists, but only a minority of the operatives belong to it.

In Valencia, a serious strike in the shoe trade has been going on for some time, the working people demanding increased wages, which the employers say they are unable to grant in the present state of the trade. The strikers have had several meetings, and are endeavoring to start a factory themselves on co-operative lines. It is not thought, however, that the scheme is feasible, owing to the lack of funds or the necessary credit.

In Barcelona, numerous shops exist where hand-sewed boots and shoes are made to order and sold. For the equivalent of $5 or $6, a first-class shoe can be bought, comparing favorably both in shape and quality of material with the best that can be produced in other countries. The fine tanned leather for the uppers of the better style of boots and shoes is all imported from abroad.

In the Balearic Islands, the majority of the inhabitants are said to be connected either directly or indirectly with the shoe trade. Little machinery is used, and the work is mostly done by hand, often in the cottages and dwelling houses of the working people.

There are about 5,000 men engaged in this industry in Majorca in connection with the twenty factories on the island, but there are many more who work at home on their own account, or for merchants and shippers who collect the boots for export. The daily earnings average about 53 cents. In order that our manufacturers may know the style and wholesale prices of the boots and shoes with which they must compete, I have sent to the Philadelphia Commercial Museum ten pairs of shoes and sandals, representing the principal grades shipped from Spain to Cuba.

PENITENTIARY-MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

At Tarragona, the convicts in the penitentiary are engaged in making shoes, and practically the entire manufacture in that neighborhood is in their hands. The daily wage given them is from 12 to 15 cents, but the overlookers receive certain bounties and gratuities besides. The wages of free journeymen range from $2.15 to $2.60 per week. Shoes for the local trade are made principally by free labor; but the majority are turned out by the workshops in the penal establishment, and these are destined for shipment from either Barcelona or Valencia. Convict labor is so cheap that the use of machinery is almost entirely dispensed with, except for nailing on the heels. There are only two wholesale export shoemakers in Tarragona, and their work is almost entirely done by the convicts, who work from sunrise to sunset, with intervals for meals.

The following particulars are given regarding the materials used in Spain in the manufacture of cheap boots for export. Leather, in its relation to the shoe trade, must be divided into two distinct classes--viz., sole leather, and the lighter leather for uppers.

SOLE LEATHER.

Sole leather is obtained chiefly from South America, the weight of the hides, both dry and dry salted, varying from 17 to 28 pounds. Hides are also imported from the Canary Islands, while the slaughter-houses of Spain are a source of further supply, Barcelona and Madrid furnishing the best quality.

Of the South American hides, the "Cordovas" are considered the best, and then come the "Entre Rios," the "Buenos Ayres," the "Paraguays," etc. To a lesser extent, dry poisoned hides from China, British India, and Morocco, the larger sized Calcutta hides, and many other kinds, mostly cowhides, averaging between 9 and 22 pounds, are also used. These hides form the raw material for sole leather, of which two kinds are produced; the one tanned with pine bark is of reddish color, and is the cheaper, and the other, tanned with native-oak bark, is whiter and somewhat dearer.

All sole leather used in the making of boots and shoes, whether for export or for the home trade, is tanned in Spain. Before being flayed the hides are halved from neck to tail, and being, of course, irregular in thickness and weight, out of every parcel tanned heavy and light pelts are assorted.

In the shoes for export to Cuba, the sole leather generally used is oak tanned, weighing from 6½ to 11 pounds per half hide, while for the home trade it is customary to use pine-tanned leather, weighing from 11 to 17½ pounds per side. Oak tan is, of course, also employed, and in different weights.

The cost of tanning sole leather from the hair to the curried state is from 4 to 4¼ cents per pound of raw hide, when tanned with pine bark, or 4¼ to 5 cents when oak tanned. The better qualities of hides, and those of light and medium weight, are, as a rule, tanned with oak bark.

The price of sole leather fluctuates with the cost of the hides, which, as is known, has recently varied considerably; and it is difficult to give exact information in this respect. I may state, however, that at present good oak sole leather is selling here at about 27 cents per pound, and good pine tan at about 24 cents.

LEATHER FOR UPPERS.

This branch of the leather trade is extremely variable; it follows the whims of fashion, and is constantly changing. Nearly all the leather used for uppers in shoes manufactured for export to Cuba is foreign made, chiefly French calf, German glazed kid, and calf and goatskins from Belgium, France and Germany; dull French calf and chrome-tanned goatskins from the United States. All these are in black. In colors, United States goat and veal skins, German colored calfskins and Spanish colored sheepskins are used. Spanish glazed sheepskins, both black and colored, and canvas, satin, and glazed cloth, are also utilized in shoes shipped to the Cuban market.

For slippers, skins are frequently used. After preparing the flesh side of the skin, the hair is left on and forms the outside of the slipper. For the home boot trade, besides the above-mentioned varieties, black or colored or tan Calcutta kips are used. These, to some slight extent, are also exported as leather.

Although all the classes of upper leather mentioned are prepared to a greater or less extent in Spain, the only line that has acquired any importance as an industry is the tanning of black Calcutta kips, and of sheepskins in black color and glazed; the other kinds of leather are either defective in quality or are unable to compete in price with similar kinds imported from abroad.

The raw hides, or what are described as calfskins, are imported from central and northern Europe, and the goatskins from India and the north of Africa. Sheepskins are procured from various districts in Spain. Hides and skins are also imported from many other countries, but principally from those mentioned.

It is very difficult to even give an approximate idea of the cost of tanning light hides. In the case of some of them—as, for instance, the sheepskin—the waste is nearly as valuable as the skin, owing to the wool, which often regulates the price of the skins. However, I find that the cost of the whole process of tanning and currying is calculated to be from $2.15 to $2.60 per dozen in the case of entire skins (not sides) weighing 6½ to 11 pounds per dozen. When the weight is 13 to 22 pounds, the cost is from $2.60 to $3.60; and when 22 to 44 pounds the dozen, $3.60 to $6. Of course, the materials used influence the cost of production to a certain extent. These materials—such as sumac, roldo, pine bark and oak bark—are all native products. They fluctuate enormously in price. Sumac, for instance, has risen from $1.15 per Catalan cwt. of 91½ pounds to $2.15; oak bark, from 75 cents to $1.07; pine bark, from 34 cents to 57 cents; roldo, from 52 cents to $1.35.

The following is the present price-list of the leading tanner of Calcutta kips in this market:

IMPORTS FROM THE UNITED STATES.

The principal article of import into Spain from the United States under the head of dressed leather is glazed kid, which again is subdivided into black and colored.

Of black glazed kid, between 6,000 and 8,000 dozens are annually imported from the United States at prices ranging from 12 to 18 cents per square foot.

Of colored glazed kid, between 500 and 1,000 dozens are bought at from 24 to 30 cents per square foot.

The trade in these goods would be greatly increased in favor of our manufacturers if the existing discriminating duties in Spain were removed and our imports were assessed at the same rate as those of Germany, which at present pay 1.25 pesetas* per kilogram (2.2046 pounds), as against 1.60 pesetas per kilogram on our goods of this class, besides the heavier freight.

I am informed that already two German firms are manufacturing glazed kid and are underselling our manufacturers in this market. The large, cheap skins are those suitable for the Spanish trade, and consequently the difference in the tariff now made of 35 centavos per kilogram represents a considerable increase in the cost of each skin.

Tanned calfskins are principally imported from the United States as colored Russian calf, which is classified as real calf and veal and sides.

The consumption of calfskins received directly and indirectly from the United States may be roughly estimated at about $500,000 worth per annum.

THE SPONGE FISHERIES.

(From May, 1901, Bulletin, Bureau of American Republics.)

"Sponge fishing, says a recent Belgian commercial report, is a Cuban industry which has developed very rapidly on the southern coast of Havana Province. About 15 years ago a Greek sailor, who was the first to see the advantages which could be reaped from sponge fishing, began the development of this industry. To-day the exports of sponges from Batabano amount to $1,000,000 a year. Those who are engaged in this industry are Spaniards from the Balearic Islands, Greeks, and a few Cubans. The schooners which sail along the coast looking for sponges generally remain out 20 days. The crews are not paid any wages, but they are allowed a certain per cent. of the sponges, which represent on an average 50 pesos for each man on each trip.

"Sponge fishing, which is very easy, takes place along the coast, and preferably around the numerous islets near the coast. Owing to the shallowness and clearness of the water the fishermen are able to gather the sponges by means of long forked sticks called pincharras.

"The finest sponges, which are white and very compact, are found around Batabano. In the other parts of the island the sponges are generally red backed and spoil very rapidly. The Cuban fishermen have given the name of machos to the sponges of little value, while the best and finest ones are called hembras. The small sponges, not larger than the fist, are called redobles. The ordinary hembras, of from 10 to 20 centimeters in diameter, sell for 3, 3½, and 4 pesos a dozen. Those measuring 25 centimeters are worth 6 and 7 pesos. Larger sponges sell by the piece. The redobles are only worth from 40 to 50 centavos a dozen.

"In Batabano, there are houses whose only business consists in buying sponges from the fishermen and exporting them to France and the United States."

* The nominal value of the peseta is 19.3 cents; market value, about 15 cents.

ESTIMATED SUGAR PRODUCTION.

(From May, 1901, Bulletin, Bureau of American Republics.)

The Belgian Consul at Matanzas has made a report to his Government on crop conditions in Cuba. He states that the estimated production of sugar in 1901, based from results obtained up to February 26, will be double that of 1900, or 660,000 tons in 1901, against 330,000 tons for the previous year.

The first cargo of sugar shipped from the port of Banes, Cuba, was received in New York on April 13, 1901, and consisted of 5,000 sacks. The United Fruit Company has established a sugar-grinding mill in the vicinity, and it is expected that hereafter considerable sugar will be forwarded from Banes.

THE CULTIVATION OF COTTON.

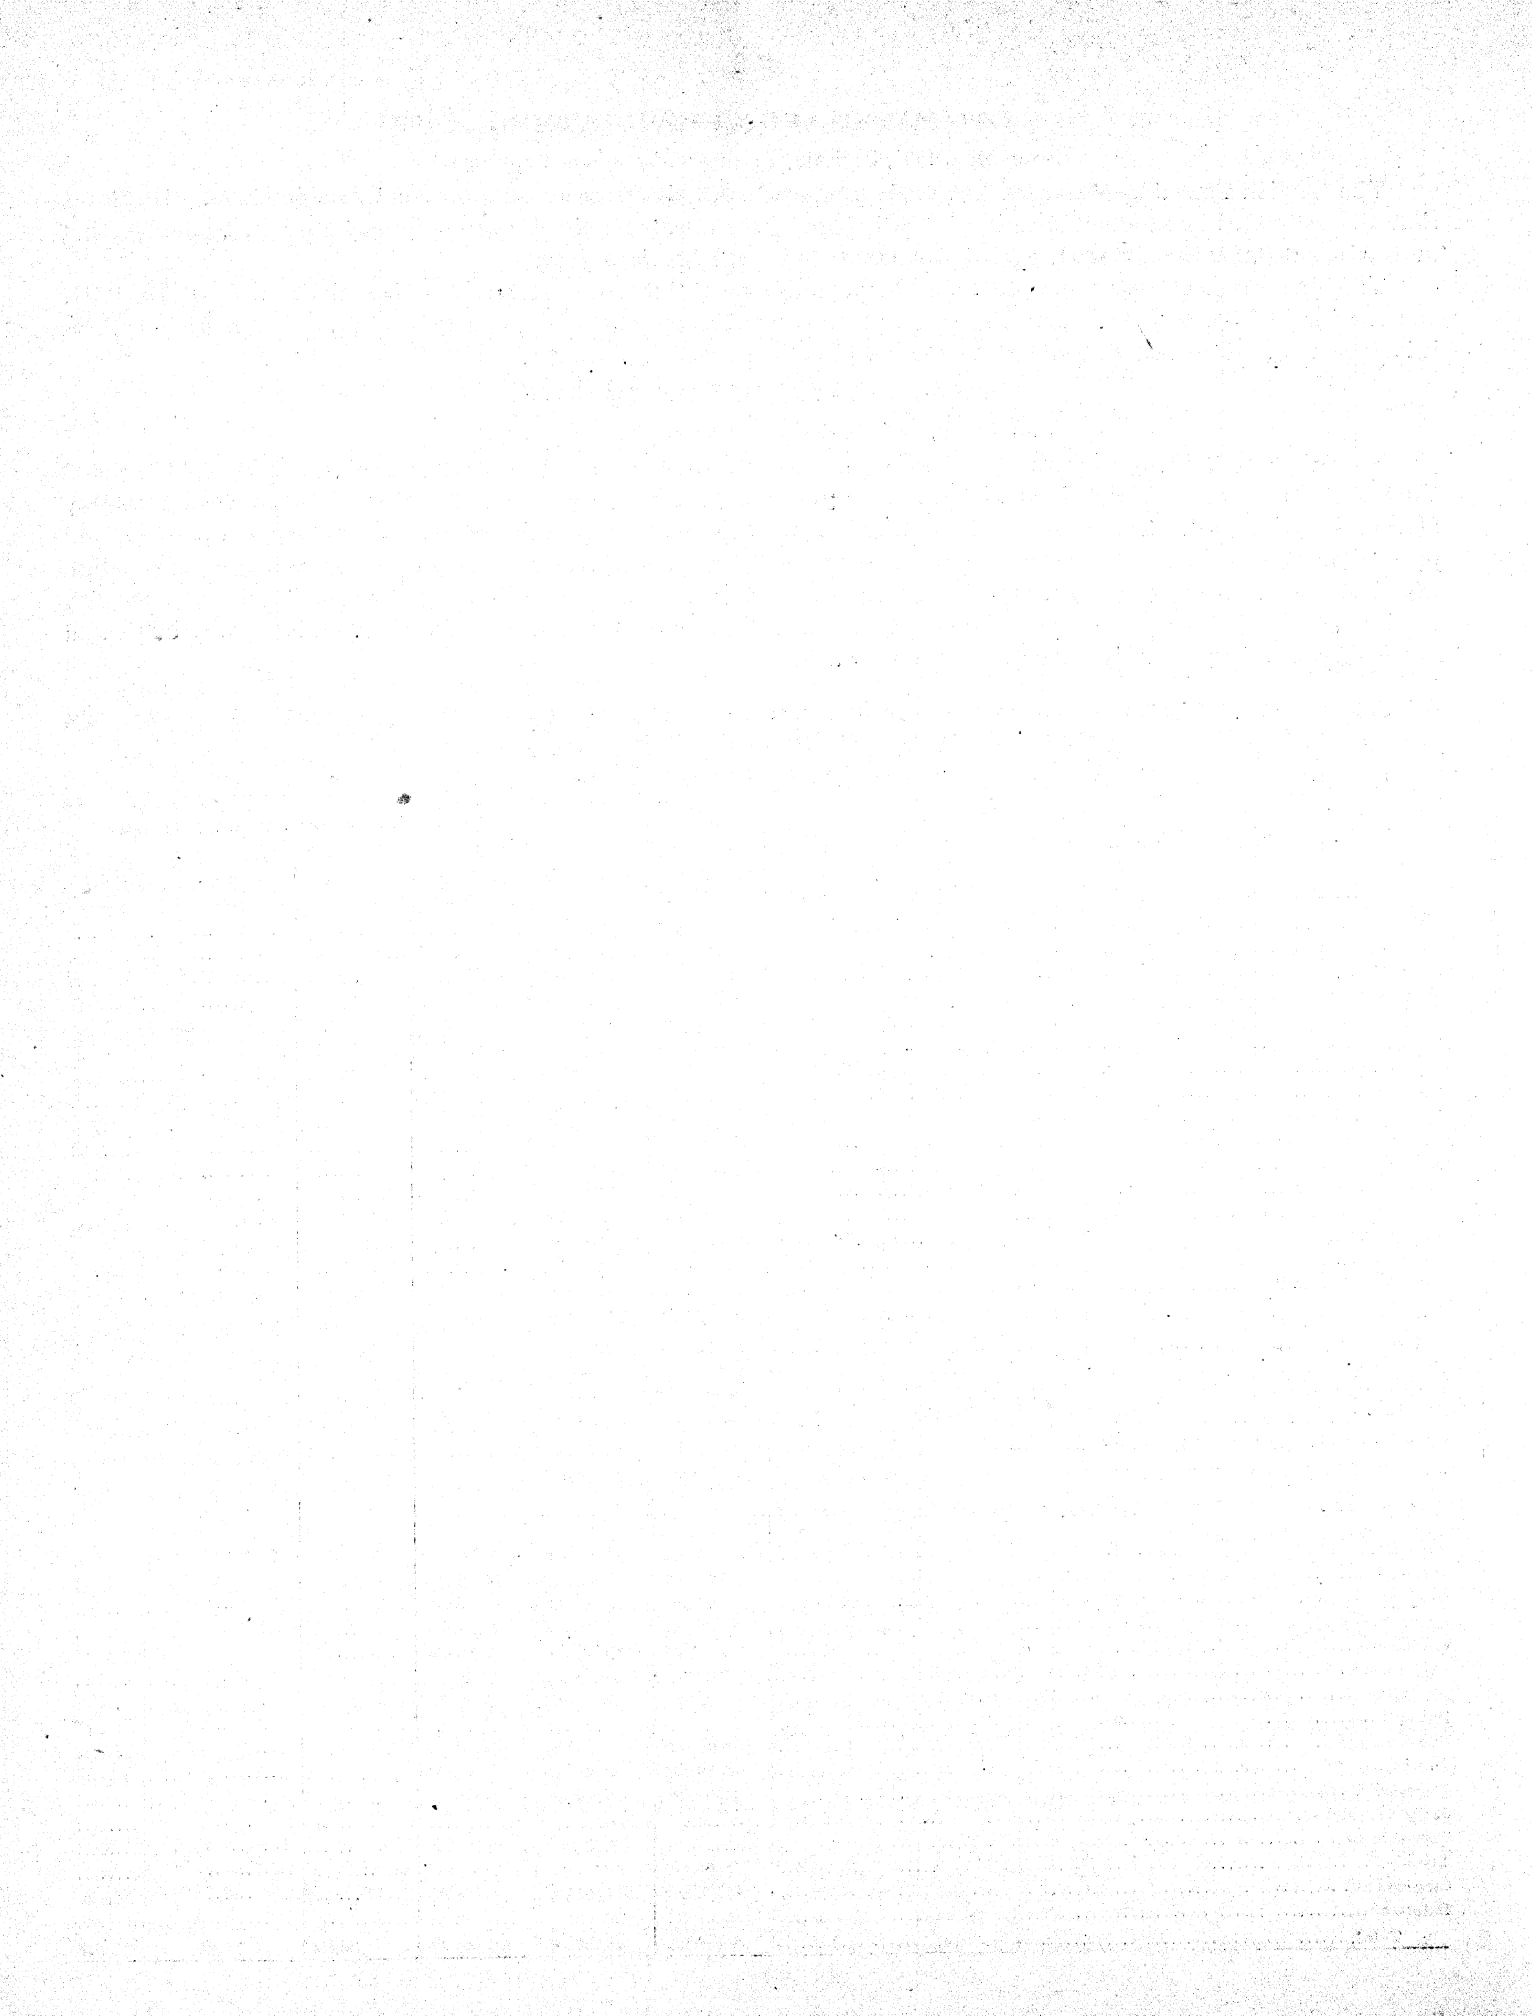

(From March, 1901, Bulletin, Bureau of American Republics.)

The Western Railway Company of Havana, whose line connects the capital with Pinar del Rio and the noted Vuelta Abajo tobacco district, is making an effort to reintroduce the cultivation of cotton into Cuba in the country traversed by its road. The company is reported to have procured a quantity of seed from Egypt, the sea-island plantations of Georgia, and the long sections of the Mississippi Valley. It has obtained all possible information with reference to the cotton plant and its culture, and is having a pamphlet printed in Spanish for distribution with the seed, which is furnished free to plantation owners willing to experiment with the fiber. Cotton was cultivated in the district on an extensive scale fifty years ago.

* Apparent loss in exports to the United States is accounted for from the fact that during the first 9 months of 1899 about $7,000,000 worth of tobacco and cigars destined for the United Kingdom was shipped via New York and reported to this division as exports to the United States, the countries of ultimate destination not being given.

MONTHLY SUMMARY

COMMERCE OF THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

JANUARY, 1901.

PREPARED IN

DIVISION OF INSULAR AFFAIRS,

WAR DEPARTMENT.

EXPLANATION OF REGULAR STATISTICAL TABLES.

General imports.—The regular statement of imports of merchandise, by articles and countries, in this publication is what is termed the statement of general imports, embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse.

The term “entry for consumption” is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties on the dutiable portion have been paid.

The values of articles imported are governed by the regulations in effect May 1, 1899, which prescribe that the values of imported merchandise subject to duty shall be “the actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation in the principal markets of the country from whence imported, and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation or consigned for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment.”

Domestic exports.—The regular statement of domestic exports, by articles and countries, in this publication exhibits the exports of domestic products or manufactures, also exports of commodities of foreign origin which have been changed from the form in which they were imported or enhanced in value by further manufacture.

The value of exports of domestic merchandise is their value at the time of exportation in the ports of the island whence they are exported.

Tonnage tables.—In the tables of tonnage movement the tonnage is stated in net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying space after the prescribed allowances are made for crew space, engine space, etc.

Weights.—In all tables published the ton weight is 2,240 pounds and the hundredweight is 112 pounds, unless indicated otherwise.

Customs districts.—Statements of imports, exports, and tonnage movement are shown by customs districts, which have a certain prescribed limit of territory with a port of entry.

SUGAR PRODUCTION.

The chart presented in this summary, showing the sugar production in Cuba for the years from 1885 to 1901, inclusive, is reproduced from the July edition of the Revista de Agricultura, and by a study of the same, the changes during the period may be noted. The high water mark of over 1,000,000 tons was reached in 1894, followed almost immediately by a drop to 225,000 tons on account of the war of 1895, the effect of which was felt until 1897, when an upward movement began, taking us to the crop of more than 600,000 tons which is about to be completed.

With the exception of the period between 1890 and 1892, in which the production of beet sugar was very large, the unit value follows the natural logic of greater production, lesser prices.

SUGAR TRUST'S NEW CAPITAL.

Mr. Havemeyer Intimates Investments in Cuba and Porto Rico.

The objects for which the $15,000,000 new stock to be issued by the American Sugar Refining Company will be used are the subject of much interest in grocery as well as financial circles, says the Commercial Bulletin of July 27th. The circular issued to stockholders and the interviews with Mr. Havemeyer that have been published since the promulgation of the circular have been, on the surface at least, antagonistic in tenor. The circular states specifically:

"The company has expended in the acquisition of property for its business, permanent improvements, etc., the sum of over $15,000,000. This has benefited both classes of stockholders, the preferred stock in the added security which it has given, and the common stock in the added value of the property of the company and in increased facilities for the transaction of its business. The $15,000,000 which the proposed increase will bring to the treasury of the company will be used for its business purposes. As capital it will benefit preferred stockholders in promoting the preferential value of their stock. That the common stockholders are interested that the increase shall be made seems, to the directors, to be manifest."

In the Sun of Tuesday last appeared an interview with Mr. Havemeyer in which he was asked to explain the circular more fully. In part he said:

"If you were to say that the Sugar Trust had in mind some operations in fields outside the United States, but not far from our shores, you might come pretty near to hitting the nail on the head."

"Do you mean Cuba, Porto Rico, and Hawaii?" was asked.

"Hawaii is too far away," said Mr. Havemeyer, "but they grow pretty good sugar in Cuba and Porto Rico. The sugar industry in Cuba will boom when they get the tariff fixed right. What they want in Cuba and what the beet sugar men and the cane sugar growers in the country would not object to is the admission to American ports of raw sugar from Cuba and Porto Rico free of duty. What the growers here want is a tariff on refined sugar. Give them a tariff on the refined product of $\frac{1}{2}$ cent. That will take care of them and we can get free raw sugar from Cuba and Porto Rico. When the tariff is adjusted along these lines the sugar industry in Cuba and Porto Rico will be worth watching. And Congress will give us that kind of a tariff."

The inference from the circular is that it is desired to capitalize the permanent improvements. The inference from Mr. Havemeyer's interview is that the new capital is to be invested in sugar plantations in Cuba and Porto Rico. Mr. Havemeyer himself in conversation with a representative of this journal yesterday refused to say which of the inferences was correct. The only statement he would make was that the new capital was not intended to purchase competing plants. The Sugar Trust has the reputation of carrying a large surplus fund for working capital. A gentleman in close touch with Mr. Havemeyer suggested last evening the following theory by which the circular to stockholders and the subsequent statements by Mr. Havemeyer may to some extent be reconciled: The Sugar Trust in acquiring or participating in the control of competing plants has used up its former large surplus. It is, therefore, not in a position where, without borrowing, it could take advantage of Cuban and Porto Rican opportunities. The company at its organization authorized an issue of $10,000,000 mortgage bonds. These bonds have never been issued, and Mr. Havemeyer desires to keep the company entirely free from bonds. The surplus or working capital having been used the directors believed it necessary to fortify the company to take advantage of opportunities, and they, therefore, recommended an issue of new stock for that purpose.

In the sugar trade there is little belief that Mr. Havemeyer is going to invest in sugar plantations in Cuba and Porto Rico. If, however, it is his intention, it is then argued that he must already have secured options on the lands he desires, for it is uniformly against Mr. Havemeyer's policy to tell his plans before they are practically consummated. Furthermore, it is argued that $15,000,000 would be an exceedingly large amount to invest in plantations.

It seems a perfectly fair statement that the majority belief in usually well-informed sugar circles is that the proposed increase in capital is to capitalize the investments that the Trust in recent years has considered it advisable to make. These investments have been large and have in most instances been in pursuance of a uniform policy of removing competition. First in this list is the purchase of the Woolson Spice Company with which to fight the Arbuckles when the latter decided to go into the sugar refining business. So far as is known nothing has been published showing how this purchase has been financed on behalf of the Trust. All that is known is that the concern was bought by "Sugar Trust interests." Notwithstanding the severe cutting of prices of coffee which the Woolson Spice Company under its new management instituted, the net result has, it is understood, been a profit on the investment. The second large investment for which, so far as is known, no arrangements for capital were made at the time, was the purchase of a half-interest in Spreckle's two beet sugar refineries in California; the third large investment was the doubling of the capacity of the Trust's Louisiana plant; the fourth large investment was the purchase of the large new refinery put up by independent interests at Camden, N. J. This refinery was merely purchased and dismantled. Last, but not least, is the investment by which the Sugar Trust is supposed to control the combination of former outside refineries which are now known as the National Sugar Refining Company. There is no public record that the Trust is a stockholder in the National Company, but it seems to be the general impression in well-informed circles that such is the case. The technical point in connection with all the foregoing purchases is that they were purchased by "Sugar Trust interests" and not specifically by the American Sugar Refining Company. There are many, therefore, who believe that the increase in capital will allow the "Sugar Trust interests" to officially turn over their purchases to the Trust itself.

Sugar Trust Interests Already Large Investors in Cuba.

In quite the same way it would be possible for Trust "interests" to turn over to the Trust itself investments that have already been made in Cuban plantations. It may be stated on authority that Mr. Havemeyer has for some time been particularly interested in the problem of cheapening the cost of sugar production by a system of throwing out old machinery and installing the very latest improvements. He has had brought to his attention the complete revolution that such a course has had in the Hawaiian Islands, where the sugar-growing industry was lifted from the depths of utmost depression which resulted before annexation from the abrogation of the reciprocity arrangement to its present exceptionally prosperous condition. And whether the Sugar Trust is a party to the movement or not there is no doubt of the fact that in Cuba to-day improved machinery and improved methods of handling are making active progress. An instance is the Chaparra Sugar Company, which owns 60,000 acres on Chaparra Bay, on the north side of the island, 400 miles east from Havana. During the last eighteen months it planted more than 10,000 acres of cane, all now growing and in good condition. The sugar factory is constructed entirely of steel. The local management of the company is under the control of Mr. G. Menocal (a Cornell graduate). The steel building is entirely completed, and the machinery is partly on the ground and the remainder will soon be shipped down. The sugar house will have a capacity of 3,600 tons of cane per day, and will, it is expected, make during the coming season (commencing January 1st, 1902) 30,000 tons of raw sugar. The plant has its own railroad of twenty-five miles, its own wharf, and, it is asserted, every modern facility for the economical handling of cane and its manufacture into raw sugar. The president is Hon. R. B. Hawley, who, it will be recalled, has large sugar interests in Louisiana. The plant is larger than anything in the Hawaiian Islands. A part of the machinery was made in Glasgow, but the great bulk of it in this country.

There has been a great advance made in developing and increasing the facilities of other large sugar estates in Cuba, especially the Tenguaro estate, near Cardenas, and the Constancia estate, near Cienfuegos. Le Banés Sugar Factory, near Bay Nipe, is having its first crop this year. It was erected by the Boston Fruit Company. The Trinidad Sugar Company is also developing its property very extensively, and many other estates are being put in order for the coming season. An authority with a practical knowledge of the progress that is being made in Cuba said last evening: "Modern machinery is an absolute necessity in Cuba now. Prices of sugar are low, and as a result of foreign competition of refined and competition by beet growers, they must stay low. This means that the raw sugar must be produced down to the very lowest fraction of a cent. It means that the cane must be sent to the large 'centrals' to be ground. If beet sugar people can make granulated at $2\frac{1}{2}$ cents per pound, as some claim, and a protection of half a cent per pound were given them, they would make a satisfactory profit if by some reciprocal arrangement with Cuba, or annexation, the duty on Cuban sugar were reduced or cut off altogether. In that case consumers in this country would get their sugar one-half to three-quarters of a cent per pound cheaper, and there would be little if any foreign refined competition. With countervailing duties uniformly assessed against bounty-paid foreign sugar Cuba and the United States could compete against the world."

As an indication of the progress being made in the introduction of new machinery a leading manufacturing firm reports the following orders for twelve months up to March 1, 1901: Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company, 500,000-gallon quadruple effect; Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company (second order), 500,000-gallon quadruple effect; Olaa Sugar Company, 350,000-gallon quadruple effect; Waiakea Sugar Company, 100,000-gallon triple effect; Honokaa Sugar Company, 120,000-gallon triple effect; Hawaiian Agricultural Company, 200,000-gallon triple effect; Chas. Pope Glucose Company (glucose), 150,000-gallon triple effect; H. Tate & Son, Liverpool (second order), 50,000-gallon single effect; National Sugar Refinery, 75,000-gallon triple effect; New York Glucose Company (for glucose), 300,000-gallon triple effect; New York Glucose Company (for glucose), 175,000-gallon triple effect; New York Glucose Company (for glucose), 150,000 gallon triple effect; Imperial Starch Company (for glucose), 10,000-gallon triple effect; Fr ncisco Sugar Company (for Cuba), 200,000-gallon quadruple effect; Chaparra Sugar Company (for Cuba), 325,000-gallon triple effect, and the Chaparra Sugar Company (for Cuba), second order, 325,000-gallon triple effect.

STOCK RAISING THE PRINCIPAL INDUSTRY OF SANCTI SPIRITUS.

The special correspondent of the Havana Post, at Sancti Spiritus, Cuba, under date of June 22, 1901, says:

All this country has had settlements for 200 years, but they have been inaccessible to the outside world, and the principal industry was stock raising, which was extremely profitable, as the cattle and horses could carry themselves to the coast for shipment, and little transportation was required, and that little was done on the backs of pack animals.

The soil of the island is largely composed of clay and heavy loams and very little light or sandy soil is to be found anywhere, but in the lower provinces the soil is much easier plowed than in the western part of the island and is almost free from foul weeds and seeds, which are a great pest in the older settlements, and have become so troublesome on the old sugar plantations as to make the business much less profitable than formerly, and many of the planters are buying fresh ground for cane and turning out the old fields to pasture.

Prices have never been high here owing to the lack of transportation facilities, but this will soon be changed now, as the Cuba Company is pushing work on the Central and expects to be running trains from Santa Clara to Ciego de Avilla within the next year.

This road will be built through to Nipe bay, in Santiago de Cuba, as fast as money and men can do it, and will open up the best and freshest country on the island. The Cuba Company expects to build side lines and branches wherever business will justify, and make and equip a comprehensive system of transportation for the island.

There are now several colony schemes being exploited in the island, most of which you will do well to watch, as they are run by city men who have had no practical experience in farming and who know nothing of the subject of land or location and care little, so they can buy up a big tract of land cheap, subdivide it and sell it at high prices.

A good deal of apprehension is felt by would-be purchasers about the title of land. The Spanish land laws are a little complicated, but the chief difficulty that an American has is his lack of a knowledge of the language, but there are good land lawyers here and plenty of first-class interpreters. So with ordinary business forethought there is no reason why anybody should be beaten in titles.

The question, "What can we grow?" is asked by everybody who contemplates making a new home in the island, and can be answered sweepingly by saying, "Everything grown in a tropical country and many things of the temperate zones."

The hill lands are exceptionally fine for coffee, as it grows to perfection, and is of the finest quality. The same may be said of cocoa, and people of limited means may easily start in either. Individuals of moderate means may start in the cane business if they are located near a railroad, for much of the cane crop is now bought and carried to the big central mills for grinding and making into sugar, but for the best profit the haul to the railroad shouldn't be too long, as it is heavy stuff to handle.

The possibilities of fruit and vegetables, "truck farming," will never be fully realized until we are admitted into the Union as one of the United States.

I have picked and eaten oranges in Mexico, California, Florida, Puerto Rico, and Cuba, and none of the others can approach the oranges of Cuba for sweetness, quality, and texture, and a paying bearing grove can be made here in four years. I saw several hundred trees in the foot-hills of the Trinidad range last fall, four years from planting, from 16 to 20 feet high and heavily loaded with the choicest fruit. The woods are full of wild orange and lemon trees, and they always bear full, the oranges sour, but the lemons of fair and good quality.

Very little systematic planting has been done here yet, as there has been no outlet to the foreign market, and the few scattering trees about every old homestead has been enough to supply home demand, as they always bear full.

I have never seen any true grape fruit in Cuba, but there is a citrus fruit quite similar in appearance that bears in the greatest profusion.

Bananas, mangos, aguacates, and a dozen other tropical fruits grow and bring forth in their season in the greatest abundance. Corn, potatoes, sweet potatoes, and every manner of garden truck, grow to the greatest perfection.

Before the war the island was fairly well stocked with first-class cattle and a tough breed of saddle horses, mostly "marchers" and singlefooters, and great quantities of pigs and chickens, but nearly all of this was destroyed during the war, and most of it wantonly, in order to subdue and starve out the Cuban people, and when the war closed very little was left for seed.

Since that time large quantities of stock have been shipped in, but after the large drafts that have been made on the steers for work teams and a beef supply for the cities, you can hardly see a sprinkling left, and it will be several years before the islands can be fairly stocked again.

The business of stock raising has always been very profitable here, as all the conditions of climate, feed, and freedom from insect pests are as fine as could be desired. There is an abundance of green feed the year round, and no cold weather to kill the little ones, and breeding goes on all the time without a single check.

I was in the West in its palmy days of big land deals, but have never seen such opportunities to make money, with money, as are now open in Cuba. There are thousands of acres of stock raising land here that can still be bought for a nominal sum, and near to transportation.

The timber and saw-mill business would be immense here, as lumber is very high, with no saw-mills to cut it up, so that most of the building being done now is with Florida pine, and the country people build their shacks of palm for the want of lumber at a living price. There are fine forests in all the lower provinces, and thousands of logs of mahogany and cedar are being exported every year.

Bee culture is quite an industry with many people already engaged in it, and honey and beeswax are shipped out by the car load, but it is nothing to what it will be when lumber for hives gets cheap enough so that common people will use it instead of hollow logs, as at the present time. There is lots of food for the bees, and they make the most honey in the winter months.

In conclusion it may be said that there is no place offering so many inducements for pleasant, profitable homes as in Cuba. The climate cannot be surpassed anywhere. With a mean temperature of from 52 to 92 degrees nobody needs to find fault, and you need never worry for fear of a frost or sunstroke.

TO MAKE SUGAR IN CUBA.

New York Company Incorporated with Capital of $2,000,000.

The Commercial Bulletin of June 29 printed a telegraphic communication from Albany, N. Y., which says:

The Damuji Company, of New York city, was incorporated to-day with a capital of $2,000,000 to raise sugar cane and manufacture sugar and other products in the Island of Cuba and elsewhere, and to do all matters incidental to a business of that character. The capital is divided into $1,000,000 preferred, and $1,000,000 common stock. The directors are Allen Wardell, Winfred T. Denison, and William S. Bainton, of New York city, and C. Roy Bangs and Edward B. Green, of Brooklyn.

COLOMBIAN EXPORT DUES.

Consul J. C. Ingersoll, of Cartagena, sends to the Department of State, under date of May 19, 1901, a new schedule of export duties, which goes into effect immediately upon publication. The tax is payable in American gold. It will weigh heavily upon cattle exporters, who have appealed for a suspension of the decree. In the event of a refusal, great financial loss will be inflicted upon the live-stock shippers, as they have contracts with dealers in Cuba. Prices in that island are such that the trade here cannot stand any export tax at all. The effect upon the export of ivory nuts, divi-divi, rubber, hides, and coffee will also be serious.

TOWING BARGES TO CUBA.

Experiment to be Tried with Coal Cargoes.

A dispatch to the Commercial Bulletin of June 17th says :

"Two of the Staples Coal Company's new 3,000-ton ocean-going barges for the Cuban coal trade are now being loaded in Philadelphia, and will probably start for Havana next week, towed by the company's new tug, which has already been described. The trip is in the nature of an experiment, and a local representative of the company said that it would probably not have been undertaken but for the fact that coal shippers have declared that there will be plenty of business for the new fleet. There is said to be but little coal shipped to Cuba from this country. What there is is carried chiefly by sailing vessels. If steamships can get anything else they do not think it profitable to carry coal unless to fill up a scant cargo.

"There are no data from which it is possible to predict how much money will be saved by carrying coal to Cuba in barges, but as it has been found cheaper almost everywhere else, dealers assume that it will be in this instance."

OF

COMMERCE OF THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

FEBRUARY, 1901.

PREPARED IN

DIVISION OF INSULAR AFFAIRS,

WAR DEPARTMENT.

EXPLANATION OF REGULAR STATISTICAL TABLES.

General imports.—The regular statement of imports of merchandise, by articles and countries, in this publication is what is termed the statement of general imports, embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse.

The term “entry for consumption” is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties on the dutiable portion have been paid.

The values of articles imported are governed by the regulations in effect May 1, 1899, which prescribe that the values of imported merchandise subject to duty shall be “the actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation in the principal markets of the country from whence imported, and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation or consigned for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment.”

Domestic exports.—The regular statement of domestic exports, by articles and countries, in this publication exhibits the exports of domestic products or manufactures, also exports of commodities of foreign origin which have been changed from the form in which they were imported or enhanced in value by further manufacture.

The value of exports of domestic merchandise is their value at the time of exportation in the ports of the island whence they are exported.

Tonnage tables.—In the tables of tonnage movement the tonnage is stated in net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying space after the prescribed allowances are made for crew space, engine space, etc.

Weights.—In all tables published the ton weight is 2,240 pounds and the hundredweight is 112 pounds, unless indicated otherwise.

Customs districts.—Statements of imports, exports, and tonnage movement are shown by customs districts, which have a certain prescribed limit of territory with a port of entry.

NOTES.

NOTES ON BEET ROOT SUGAR.

According to the latest statistics, says the Revista de Agricultura, France has in this year an increase of production of 7.8 per cent. over that of 1899, it being 990,900 tons as against 918,532 of the past year. Belgium, Sweden, and Denmark have likewise an increase varying between 15.5 and 30.4 per cent. Italy increased her production 150 per cent. Last year it was 28,000 tons, and in the present year it reaches 70,000 tons. Germany will produce the same amount, or 1,800,000 tons, and Austria-Hungary, with a falling off of 5.8 per cent., will have 1,050,000 tons.

In resumen it is calculated that the European production of beet root sugar will be 5,800,000 tons, an increase of 277,000 over that of 1899.

In the United States the sugar campaign continues its course with a production of 190 pounds of sugar per ton of beet root, or 8.5 per cent. in the State of Michigan. In Colorado it appears that the beet root sugar manufacturers acknowledge 21 per cent. of saccharine matter. In that State the establishment of a factory is projected at Loveland, paying $4.25 for the ton of beet root having 12 to 15 per cent. of saccharine matter, and $4.50 for those upward. Those that have been worked at Rocky Ford reached 18 to 21 per cent. of saccharine matter, giving the cultivator a price consequently of $5 per ton. In regard to the production per acre at Rocky Ford it has been from 15 to 30 tons (40,000 to 80,000 arrobas per caballeria). The production of beet root sugar in this country will reach some 75,000 tons.

In Australia the beet root sugar industry progresses at the same ratio with the cane sugar in the State of Victoria, aided by the Government, thanks to the beet sugar-works act of 1896, by which legislation advances are made to the companies raising this saccharine root, that comply with conditions imposed by the Government. Each company that establishes a factory in the district comprising 10,000 acres of land appropriate for this plant in a radius of 10 miles, and which has made contracts with the farmers for more than 20,000 acres for three years, receives from the Government two pounds sterling for every pound spent by the company and this advance is refunded by annuities in 46 years with 4 per cent. interest. Under these conditions the Maffra Beet Sugar Company was formed, and the factory installed in the district of Gippsland, at some 130 miles to the east of Melbourne.

The analyses made of thirteen samples of beet sugar show a richness of 16 to 19.75 per cent. of saccharine matter with a purity of 80 to 92. A peculiarity characterizes the industry in that country, and it is due to the mildness of the climate that the beet root can be kept in the ground during the harvest a much longer time than in Europe or in the United States, from which results the harvest can be made in better conditions for the manufacturer and cultivator in the doing away with underground storage, that reduces the saccharine richness, in this case the supplies of the factory being almost proportional to its daily work.

Under the name of the "Societe Suisse pour l'industrie du sucre," the Louisiana Planter says that there has been organized in Geneva a company with a capital of 1,500,000 francs for the manufacture of beet root sugar. It is not known yet if France, Germany, and Austria have reached any positive agreement for the suppression or reduction of the premiums with which they favor the sugar industry, as the former has protested against the exactions of its two competitors that attempted to impose a tax of more than 7 francs of 100 kilos of sugar.

The official statistics of the sugar campaign in Germany acknowledge an average production during the three first months of 12.67 per cent. as against 11.70 in 1899-1900—that is to say, 1 per cent. more in favor of the present season. When shall we be able to present statistics with such results?

The correspondence of Berlin, under date of November 19th, published by the "Louisiana Planter," does not give hopes of the notice being confirmed which our local papers published of an agreement having been reached between France, Germany, and Austria in the debated matter of premiums on exports or bonuses of all kinds. The opinion was strong in those countries against any change of legislation that might tend to diminish or at least suppress the advantages which they had enjoyed since 1883, against which little or nothing would effect the counter-vailing duties which have to be paid in foreign custom-houses. The facts already serve to call the attention of all to the situation, and this will happen when they find themselves obliged to foster domestic consumption or to diminish production.

The production of beet root sugar is rapidly increasing in Spain. The 26 factories existing to-day, with a production of 10 per cent. of sugar, will have an output on the market of 76,678 tons besides the 30,000 tons of cane sugar. There are on the way of installation 22 factories, so that in the next season Spain will have 48 factories for beet root sugar. This year the production will be 90,000 tons of beet root sugar and 30,000 tons of cane sugar, or a total of 120,000, and as the consumption is from 80,000 to 90,000 our old metropolis will be in condition to export more than 30,000 tons.

In the United States the future of this industry has to contend with the opposition of the agriculturists. Some factories that have not been able to obtain the total amount of beet root necessary for their capacity will have to change their locality. This is the case with the factories at Cache, Utah, and Grand Junction, Colorado. The powerful American Beet Root Sugar Company on the other side is making great efforts to give it a great impulse, adding to the four factories which it possesses in Grand Island and Norfolk, Nebraska, as also in Chino and Oxnard, California, and that of Rocky Ford, Colorado, of which we have already spoken. The capacity of this factory is 1,000 tons of beet root daily, and the saccharine richness this year reaches from 18 to 21 per cent.

The results that the experimental station in Ohio presents are not so satisfactory; the richness of the beet sugar gathered this year has not exceeded 11 per cent. with a purity of 77.

This industry does not prosper in the State of Indiana. In order to encourage it there exists a proposition of conceding to the manufacturers a premium of 1 cent per pound of sugar during four years and of $\frac{1}{2}$ cent the four following years.

In England they are carrying to a head experiments on the cultivation of beet root with satisfactory results, as in this year the richness of the juice has been 17.07 of sugar in 100 parts with a purity of 87.45; admitting thereby an advantageous comparison with the good German beet root of Magdeburg which, according to report of F. O. Licht, has this year a saccharine richness in its juice of 17.38 of sugar with a purity of 86.90. In view of these results the accomplished expert on sugar matters, Mr. Sigimund Stein, is making an active campaign to implant this industry in Great Britain and Ireland. But his effort will result sterile while the Governments of Germany and France make a strong endeavor with their export premiums in cheapening in the greatest degree possible the sugar consumed by the sons of old Albion.

COSTA RICAN DUTY ON COFFEE.

Minister Merry writes to the Department of State from San Jose, June 19, 1901:

The Government of Costa Rica has passed a law abolishing the export duty on coffee on and after the 1st of September next. This duty, amounting to 1 cent (United States currency) per pound, it is expected will be recouped by the additional 50 per cent. import duty on imported merchandise required by the law since April 28, 1901. The export duty on coffee has been a serious burden on producers, and the coffee industry being mainly in the hands of citizens of the Republic, the relief will be much appreciated. It is hoped that the law may continue in force until coffee, which is now the main product of Costa Rica, commands a higher price in the world's markets.

MARKET FOR BANANA MEAL IN EUROPE.

Consul Hughes, of Coburg, under date of June 4, 1901, writes to the Department of State, as follows:

Dried banana meal finds a ready sale in Europe, owing to its great nutritive power. So far as I can learn, Jamaica merchants are the only exporters of this article to Europe, but it seems to me our Southern States should pay some attention to the industry, which promises before long to be a large and paying one. As an addition to milk, soups, meat stews, etc., banana meal is very palatable, imparting a delicate, pleasant flavor. Great care should be taken in drying the ripe fruit to prevent any decayed parts getting into the meal.

"EL LUGARENO" SUGAR MILLS, AT NUEVITAS.

Mr. Avelino de Varona, of Puerto Principe, Cuba, under date of November 23, 1900, writes to the Revista de Agricultura as follows:

I am going to speak, although briefly, of the sugar mill called "El Lugareno" and the preparations that are being made for the next sugar season in the mills and fields of cultivation.

This magnificent mill, the property of Dr. Melchor Bernal Varona, is situated in the municipality of Nuevitas, 24 kilometers from that city and 48 from Puerto Principe by railway, to which it is connected by a narrow-gauge railroad of 4 kilometers, and at the junction there is a spacious warehouse with platforms for the shipment of products.

For the cultivation of cane it possesses excellent lands and virgin forests pertaining to the plantation of "Camajan" of about 500 caballerias of land, of which there is at present in a state of production for the present season about 130 caballerias in the following form: 50 caballerias of spring cane; 30 caballerias of winter cane, all in the best condition; and moreover, 50 caballerias of cane which were abandoned during the war and which have been put into good condition and its outlook shows that the production will be of the average. Moreover, at the present time they are cutting down some 15 caballerias of timber for the next sowing.

Judging by the notable reforms that Mr. Bernal is introducing with great activity at the mill, the present season at "Lugareno" will satisfy the just aspirations of its untiring, active, and well-known owner, as likewise the labors of the workmen who place all their hopes in it as the result of their constant toil.

The reforms that are being carried into effect are: the installation of a condenser, made by the Pusey & Jones Company, of Wilmington; the installation of a crusher by Krajewski Pesant & Company, which will increase the daily work of the mill about 20 per cent.; the installation of two new cane carriers. All of this, together with the magnificent apparatuses which the mill now possesses, are as follows: a grinder, another grinder, two furnaces for the burning of the refuse, 12 purifiers, 2 kettles, a dynamo of sufficient power, 12 filter presses, a cane feeder, 4 other cane carriers and likewise some 8 kilometers more of fixed railway, by means of which five locomotives run from the different sugar patches, and for the shelter of these locomotives a round-house capable of containing them all is being concluded, all of which leads us to believe that 75,000 sacks of sugar will be produced during the 100 days of the season.

Moreover, this mill has most complete and spacious offices for the manager, and well-equipped blacksmith and carpenter shops in which are constructed solid and elegant cars for the service of the estate.

The season should begin by the incoming month.

THE NEW SUGAR REFINERIES.

Commenting upon the two new refineries, the Knickerbocker and the Independent, the Commercial Bulletin says:

The situation in sugar refining circles seems to be becoming one of increasing interest. The current week has witnessed the announcement of two new refineries, and has witnessed, moreover, a marked increase in the discussion regarding the future duties on sugar from Cuba. Refiners assert that beet sugar raisers can grow sugar at 2½ cents per pound without loss, and that, therefore, they would not be injured by a radical reduction in the duty on their own foreign raw supplies. On the other hand, they assert that they (the refiners) could sell at 3½ cents per pound were the duty removed, and that the consumer, therefore, is being heavily taxed. The removal of the Cuban duty would, they assert, entirely shut out foreign supplies of refined sugars, provided that a countervailing duty continue to be charged on sugars from all countries that pay an export bounty. Refiners think that the matter will come up for action when Congress convenes, and are already figuring to see if some compromise cannot be agreed upon with the beet sugar interests. They recognize that, unless such compromise can be made, little hope need be entertained of favorable action by Congress.

One plan that is being considered is that of reducing the duty on Cuban sugar by degrees, say, a gradual reduction, to be completed in ten years; and they are inclined to favor giving the beet raisers a national bounty for the first three years, after which the industry should, they argue, be self-supporting, if it is ever to become so. Another proposition that is being considered is that of advocating a cut of one-half in the present duties on Cuban raw sugar. The threat of foreign refined sugars coming to this country in large quantities seems to be acting as a decided spur to action of some kind, on the ground that any contest between refiners and beet interests can only mean the entrance of foreign refined to an extent to substantially injure each. Since January 1 this year the imports of refined sugars have amounted to nearly 25,000 tons—an increase of more than 20,000 tons over the same period last year.

It is certainly of interest to note that the two new refineries, already referred to, have each foreign affiliations. In the instance of the Knickerbocker refinery, which is to be erected on the Hudson River, near Fort Lee, in New Jersey, the backers of the new company, Messrs. Robt. Crooks & Co., have been among the largest importers of refined sugars in this market, while the second new refinery referred to, namely, the Independent, which has just been incorporated under the laws of New Jersey, will, for the present at least, so far as could be learned, not be a refinery at all, but merely a packing-house for foreign and perhaps American sugars. The incorporators of this latter company are largely connected with the firm of Henry Hobart & Co., at whose office it was stated yesterday that it was yet too early to make any public statement of their purposes or policy. Refiners are much interested in a circular issued by this new independent refinery before it was incorporated, and they are unable to discover that any actual refining from raw sugar has been done thus far or is immediately contemplated, especially as it takes fully a year to equip a new refinery. In the sugar trade the belief is general that it is proposed to pack foreign sugars in this refinery, as foreignized packages are not the same as those current here. Sugar is packed by the regular refiners in 2 and 5 and 100-pound packages. The Independent refinery packs them in 3½, 7, and 100-pound packages.

The Knickerbocker Refinery.

It appears that the original reports, regarding the size of the refinery with which Robt. Crooks & Co. are associated, were misleading. Instead of 15,000 barrels daily, the capacity is to be 1,500 barrels daily. The fact that Robt. Crooks & Co. have been identified with foreign sugars is not a factor in the new company's policy, as the firm will merely act as selling agents for the new refinery. Mr. E. H. Laing, of Robt. Crooks & Co., said yesterday that the new company would be known as the Knickerbocker Sugar Refining Company, and will be located at Edgewater, N. J., just south of Fort Lee Ferry, opposite Grant's Tomb. The refinery is a Western enterprise, composed of a number of Western wholesale grocers and merchants, under a New Jersey charter. Mr. George K. Ross, of Cleveland, Ohio, will probably be offered the presidency and be the official head of the new company. Robt. Crooks & Co. will be the selling agents, acting in the same capacity as B. H. Howell, Son & Co. for the National and Mollenhauer refineries. The plant will be up to date in every particular, and Mr. George M. Newhall, who will have charge of the building and equipment, states that the location is the best he ever saw for the purpose. The capacity will be 1,500 barrels daily. The incorporators of this plant will have a distributing outlet of their own for over 50 per cent. of the output. It is not the intention of the concerns identified with this refinery to enter into competition with anybody. Mr. Ross has been prominently identified with the sugar trade for many years, and is president of the Ross & Sprague Co., wholesale grocers of Cleveland, Ohio. The firm of Geo. H. Newhall Engineering Company, of Philadelphia, who will supervise the erection of this plant, are experts in their line, having built the Arbuckle refinery, also the National of Yonkers, the McCahan of Philadelphia, and the United States of Camden, N. J.

Sugar from Porto Rico.

Advices from Philadelphia state that, anticipating the improved trade which will follow the abolition of the duty on all merchandise from Porto Rico to this country, merchants and shipping men there are already talking of establishing a line between that island and this port. Those who would benefit by such a line, notably the sugar, tobacco, molasses, and coffee trade, are already figuring out the added business which will flow to this port as a result of the freedom from duty. In raw sugar alone the increase in imports will be tremendous. Last year the entire imports from Porto Rico to Philadelphia were not more than 1,100 tons. Already the sugar men are beginning to count their increase well up in the hundreds of thousands. Speaking on this head, a prominent representative of the McCahan independent sugar refinery said: "The outlook for a marvelous sugar industry in Porto Rico is now almost assured, and it is more than probable that the raw sugar crop there will soon be increased to millions of tons. Large amounts of capital are being expended there, and this city should naturally derive much benefit by the opening of this island free to the trade of this country."

CUBAN SUGAR CROP REVIVING.

It is a pleasure to turn from political to agricultural Cuba. Correspondence in a recent issue of the Chicago Tribune stated that the sugar crop which the planters have lately finished grinding is likely to figure up 600,000 tons and to mean $30,000,000 for the island.

From 1865 to 1890 the crop ranged from about 500,000 to 750,000 tons per year. But from 1891 to 1895 there was a marked increase. The product in 1894 was 1,050,000 tons and that of 1895 was 1,004,000 tons. The war cut down the production in 1896 to 225,000 tons. This year's yield registers an important step, therefore, in a slow recovery.

The chief reasons for tardy recuperation have been the large investment required and the artificial barriers encountered in seeking markets. To replant the fields burned as a military measure by the insurgents is expensive, and to rebuild the destroyed centrals is more so. The chief obstacle, however, to the future of Cuban sugar raising—and an obstacle which has hindered its natural prosperity for many years—is the competition of bounty-fed beet sugar, which has shut it out of European markets, that of England included. Cuba consumes only about 50,000 tons a year of its product, and nearly all of the remainder finds its market in this country. Hence the anxiety in Cuba for a reduction of the duties imposed here.

The recovery in sugar raising in Cuba appears to have been realized in the restoration of fields rather than in the rebuilding of plants. A properly equipped central to-day means an outlay of perhaps a million dollars, and in the present uncertainty as to future tariffs and bounties on sugar capital shrinks from such investments. This situation seems to have emphasized the tendency which has been going on for years to increase the size of the estate or territory tributary to one central.

Tobacco, the second crop of the island in importance, can be grown within a year and with no considerable outlay of capital. Hence tobacco growing recovered rapidly after the war and furnished a resource to many persons suffering from the depression in the sugar industry. This depression has also had the important effect of diversifying the products of the soil.

The industries of Cuba, after all, are both the goal and the guaranty of her political life. It is on them in reality that everything depends.

TOBACCO IN THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

[From La Democracia, Manila, June 21, 1901.]

The Cuban tobacco possessing the finest flavor grows in that section lying to one side of Havana and called Vuelta-de-abajo. It is also found in other parts of the island, but of inferior quality. The price of the leaf varies greatly, those of great width and of sufficient elasticity to be used for wrappers of cigars of the highest grade are worth about 50 francs a kilogram at the place of production, and the narrow ones for making cigarettes are sold for about 6 francs. From a business point of view the Havana tobacco is divided into seventeen varieties, according to size, color, and delicacy of the leaf. In time of gathering the cultivators are careful to separate these according to their grades, and after being dried they gather into equal size bundles. For sale, they are put up into packages weighing about 50 kilograms, made up generally of 80 small bundles, covered with heavy palm leaves, and moreover protected by an outside wrapper.

In normal times, as we read in a statistical treatise by M. Gustavo Bock, English Consul-General, the total production of the "Pearl of the Antilles" is 560,000 packages, or about 28,000,000 kilograms, which are made up in the following manner :

Two hundred and sixty thousand packages from Pinar del Rio, 70,000 from Havana and county, 130,000 from Villas and Santa Clara, and 100,000 from Alayari and Gibara. These figures might be increased very much, as the province of Vuelta-de-abajo is the only one having a large amount of uncultivated land. It is sufficient to give capitalists confidence to have the number of packages reach annually 500,000. The local consumption of cigars, cigarettes, and boxes of tobacco is very important, reaching 220,000 packages for the entire island. The rest is exported either in the leaf or manufactured. Nevertheless, even under the auspices of peace, the American Government will have to take many measures to assure to the planter and manufacturer a sale that will compensate them for their labors. The laws, as promulgated by Spain, prohibiting the introduction into the island of foreign leaf tobacco particularly, should be enforced. By this means the importation of inferior production by unscrupulous merchants will be prevented who, after having made up the cigars, more or less counterfeited, would re-export them as genuine Havanas. This practice perhaps would enrich the friends of fraud, but would give a lamentable blow to the just renown of Cuban tobacco.

COMMERCE OF THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS OF MERCHANDISE, FEBRUARY, 1901.

[NOTE.—Beginning July 1, 1900, the statistical reports to the Division of Insular Affairs were based upon a new schedule, giving the classification of commodities imported and exported much more in detail than were required by the schedule in effect prior to that date. Owing to this change it is impossible to make comparison by articles and countries in some instances.]

OF

COMMERCE OF THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

MARCH, 1901.

PREPARED IN

DIVISION OF INSULAR AFFAIRS,

WAR DEPARTMENT.

EXPLANATION OF REGULAR STATISTICAL TABLES.

General imports.—The regular statement of imports of merchandise, by articles and countries, in this publication is what is termed the statement of general imports, embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse.

The term “entry for consumption” is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties on the dutiable portion have been paid.

The values of articles imported are governed by the regulations in effect May 1, 1899, which prescribe that the values of imported merchandise subject to duty shall be “the actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation in the principal markets of the country from whence imported, and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation or consigned for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment.”

Domestic exports.—The regular statement of domestic exports, by articles and countries, in this publication exhibits the exports of domestic products or manufactures, also exports of commodities of foreign origin which have been changed from the form in which they were imported or enhanced in value by further manufacture.

The value of exports of domestic merchandise is their value at the time of exportation in the ports of the island whence they are exported.

Tonnage tables.—In the tables of tonnage movement the tonnage is stated in net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying space after the prescribed allowances are made for crew space, engine space, etc.

Weights.—In all tables published the ton weight is 2,240 pounds and the hundredweight is 112 pounds, unless indicated otherwise.

Customs districts.—Statements of imports, exports, and tonnage movement are shown by customs districts, which have a certain prescribed limit of territory with a port of entry.

WARD LINE WILL BUILD THREE NEW SHIPS.

It has been learned on good authority, says the Havana Post, that the Ward line will in a very short time let the contracts for the building of three more steamers for service between the United States, Cuba, and Mexico.

The new ships will be built, it is understood, by Cramps, although the contract has not been let. One of the new steamers will be on the style of the Morro Castle, which has proven to be one of the most popular boats of the line.

The rapid increase of the trade between Cuba and the United States, says the representative of the Ward line, makes the increase of the already large fleet imperative, and these three new ones are forerunners of several more.

EXPORTS OF SOAP FROM SPAIN TO CUBA.

Consul-General Julius G. Lay reports from Barcelona to the Department of State, under date of April 15, 1901, that the manufacture of soap in Spain has greatly increased, during late years, the large exports to Cuba having fostered this industry and enabled it to acquire an importance that but for that outlet it would never have reached, considering that only an insignificant proportion of the exports found a sale in foreign markets. Especially was this the case before the loss of the colonies, for in the year 1897 Spain sent 7,045 tons to her dependencies and only 112 tons to other countries. The total exports during 1900 amounted to over 6,107 tons, while those for the two months ended February 28, 1901, reached 1,792 tons.

In the province of Barcelona alone there are over one hundred soap factories, including the extensive works of the firms of Rocamora Hermanos, which are among the largest soap factories of Europe. Their soap is manufactured almost exclusively for export, Cuba being the best market.

The olein used is produced in their own stearin factory. This is mixed with resin, which is one of the few articles allowed to enter free of customs duty when intended for re-exportation. Large quantities of beef tallow are imported from the River Plata, and mutton tallow from Australia.

Cocoanut oil also forms one of the principal component parts of the soap made here, the cocoanuts or copra being brought from the Pacific islands and crushed at the oil mills here. Vegetable oils were formerly imported, but, owing to the high protective duties now levied on them, the principal French firm in the Spanish trade found it necessary to cross the frontier and erect a mill here in order to compete with the local oil crushers.

Common olive oil and oil extracted from the pulp, left after the first crushing of the olives, also enter into the manufacture of soap, and these are naturally obtained at little cost in this country.

Caustic soda of 60° strength is imported from England. The present price is 23.65 francs per 100 kilograms ($4.56 per 220 pounds) c. i. f. Barcelona.

The price at which the common, yellow soap is sold for export is equal to about 3½ cents per pound, delivered free on board at Barcelona.

SUGAR MACHINERY FOR CUBA.

The following appeared among the "Export Notes" in a recent issue of the Commercial Bulletin:

Samuel Smith & Son, of Paterson, N. J., have received contracts for two horizontal tubular boilers 22 feet in length, which are to be shipped to the Central Australia, Matanzas, Cuba; two horizontal multitubular boilers 90 inches by 22 feet long for installation in the plant of the Central San Pedro, Cardenas, Cuba, and one multitubular steam boiler 16 feet by 6 feet, which is to be forwarded to the Henry Clay and Bock & Co.'s tobacco factory at Havana. The value of these contracts amounts to about $12,000.

The Coatesville Boiler Works, of Coatesville, Pa., have secured a contract for a 110-foot high and 6-foot diameter steel smoke stack for the Central Toledo, near Havana; also a 12x12-foot steel water tank, which is to be utilized on the same sugar estate. Milliken Bros., of this city, will supply a 45-foot high tower also for the Central Toledo. The Coatesville people are also furnishing two medium-sized steel tanks for the Central Australia, Matanzas, Cuba. The Central Lugareno, Nuevitas, Cuba, has requisitioned for two steel smoke stacks 25 feet high by 8 feet in diameter.

TOWING COAL TO CUBA NO LONGER AN EXPERIMENT.

Coal and shipping men are elated over the success which has attended the experiment of sending coal in barges to Cuba, says the Havana Post. The prediction was made to-day that it would not be long before this method of transportation would be adopted between the United States and ports in the West Indies and Mexico, to say nothing of the possibilities of using these boats in meeting the demand for American coal in European countries which has sprung up in the last few years.

The tugboat Cuba is lying at the Palmer street wharf, preparing for another trip with coal-laden barges for Havana. No date has yet been set for her sailing. The Cuba reached Philadelphia on Friday from Havana, returning from a voyage which demonstrated the success of the venture of carrying coal to Cuba on barges.

The Cuba sailed from Philadelphia on June 19 with the two barges, Matanzas and Carden, each carrying 2,800 tons of bituminous coal. The tugboat is of 1,100 horse power, and each of the barges is about 300 feet long and 40 feet wide. Havana was reached on June 29. The barges left there, and the Cuba sailed on the evening of July 1, reaching Philadelphia at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of July 5, making the trip from dock to dock in less than four days.

"Carrying coal in barges from the United States to the West Indies," said Capt. Benjamin H. Hawes, commander of the Cuba, to-day, "is no longer a theory or experiment, but a practical, perfect success, as our voyage demonstrated. This enterprise is the beginning of a new era in shipping, for it means that the time is not far distant when American coal and other American products will be carried in American vessels. Heretofore our coal has gone to Cuba in foreign steamers. These vessels leave no money here, and even their repairs are made at home ports.

"There is a steady demand for American coal in Havana all the year round. Much of it is consumed by vessels of all nations which touch at Havana to coal. Then, too, the sugar plantations use a great deal of coal, but these are at a standstill at this season.

"Each barge," he added, "had a cargo of coal and was manned by a crew of six or seven. The two barges and tugboats carried thirty-two men. A steamer with a single cargo would require at least thirty-seven men and her engine would consume double the quantity of coal burned by a tugboat."

SUGAR INDUSTRY.

Beet Sugar Industry Is Being Encouraged and Cuban Planters Are Facing Competition.

The following dispatch to the Philadelphia Press from Washington is of special interest to the people of Cuba:

"Within ten years the United States will produce all the sugar she will consume," said Secretary Wilson yesterday.

"I may be over-sanguine, but I believe that my judgment is correct. Any one of the States of Illinois, Indiana or Nebraska could produce all the sugar needed in the United States."

The Secretary of Agriculture is extremely enthusiastic over the ability of this country to produce all the sugar it needs, and, at the same time, enrich the farmers who engage in this industry. When asked to-day by the Press correspondent why more beet sugar was not produced, he replied:

"Over forty factories will be at work this fall, many with increased capacity. The principles now applied to this industry have heretofore been used in the production of oil. At Lehigh, Utah, three new factories have been established, being located twenty, twenty-two, and twenty-three miles apart. The juice is gotten out of the beets by diffusion, and it is run in the pipes to the central factory. There is activity in the sugar industry from New York to California. There has been a steady growth in those regions during the last four years, but there has been a pause since the discussion of the Porto Rican question began. When that discussion began capital hesitated to advance money to be invested in the beet sugar industry in this country. There is no doubt of the ability of our people to make sugar in competition with any other sugar makers in the world; that is as soon as we have had time to apply American ingenuity in the field and factory and to utilize the by-products.

"While in San Francisco I met a few sugar beet producers. I inquired if it had occurred to them to press the water out of pulp so that it might be transported cheaper and stored with greater facility. This is now being done, and before long sugar beet cake will be an article of commerce. The pulp of the sugar beet is as valuable to the dairy cow as the whole beet, because the extraction of the sugar leaves everything needed by the cow, as it gets the necessary sugar from fodders. I inquired if a test had been made of the value of the by-products in feeding dairy cattle. Claus Spreckles is feeding 600 cows with pulp, but this is not being done everywhere. The sugar is taken from the beet and the by-product sold for feeding cheap steers or else wasted. Profits from the industry, by a large majority, are expected from sugar only. It is more economical to build large factories costing $350,000 and upward.

"We might begin this industry as Europe did by making brown sugar and selling it to refineries. The American idea is to produce the finished product, leaving the operators free from the powers of the sugar trusts that exist only at the ports of entry for the purpose of refining foreign sugar. When the discussion of the Porto Rican question began it was an open question as to whether the sugar producers of this country were to look eventually for free trade in sugar with the Philippines.

"They were not alarmed at anything that might be done in Porto Rico or any legislation by Congress in regard to Porto Rico. The parties seemed to be divided on the question as to whether Congress had the power to put a duty on Philippine sugar and capital hesitated to build factories freely until the Supreme Court decided the question. The Court has decided that Congress has power to act.

"Since that decision capital has been moving freely in this direction. Many localities offer large dividends and all well-managed factories have been paying well. Colorado has been having a boom along this line and so are other localities. Syndicates have bought large tracts of land in the Arkansas valley with the purpose of having them settled by people who will grow sugar beets. Northern Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, and Nebraska are all well located for this industry, but the farmers of this humid district are prospering greatly with staple crops which are common to them. Any one of the States mentioned could produce from beets all the sugar needed in the United States. But the farmer who is prospering in raising cattle, horses, hogs, corn, wheat, oats, and barley is inclined to study carefully before changing his methods.

"I expect to see a combination of sugar and butter become common on the farms in the sugar belt. The by-products will pay all the expenses of raising the crop. The crops easily average twelve tons of sugar beets to the acre in the States mentioned, making sugar beets worth fifty dollars to the acre. Sugar and butter are composed of carbonaceous matter, which comes from the atmosphere and does not deplete the soil of its plant food, providing the refuse from the cow stables is returned to the soil.

"I may be sanguine, as I said, but I believe that within ten years the United States will produce all of its sugar principally from sugar beets. From three to four thousand acres devoted to beet raising will justify the building of a factory. This requires co-operation on the part of the farmers, as there are few farms large enough to be devoted exclusively to the raising of beets. We are still sending imported sugar beet seeds all over the country so that the farmers may test the soil in every neighborhood. The requirements of a neighborhood are that enough acres be planted and cultivated to justify the erection of a factory. There must be cheap fuel, limestone must be within reasonable reach, and pure water obtainable.

"A tremendous impetus would be given to a neighborhood by each farmer growing enough beets to give him pulp enough to feed his dairy cows.

"He would then not be put to the expense of buying other feed. The farmer, by pressing the water out of the pulp, would be able to pile it up in a crib, as he does oil cake, to be fed to the dairy cows in the winter as required.

"The by-products could belong to the farmer who grows the beets. He should sell only the sugar to the factory. The extensive culture necessary to beet raising will thoroughly clean lands of any weeds. The arid States have the richest beets, because of the richness of the soil. The plant food has not been leached out of it by rainfall.

In some parts of Colorado there is produced 15 or 16 per cent. of sugar in beets, with a high percentage of purity of the juice. The European sugar-producing neighborhoods are content with 12 per cent. and work beets profitably with only 10 per cent. I do not know of any States along our northern border which have lower averages than 13 per cent., which is the average shown us by the French at the Paris Exposition. Nothing now stands in the way of the full development of this industry but the education of the farmers up to growing enough beets."

CUBAN CANE CROP PROSPECTS.

The following article appeared in a recent issue of the Louisiana Planter:

While it has continued raining moderately at some places not a drop of water has fallen at others; but as the soil still retained sufficient moisture from previous heavy rains, crops are generally doing well and the appearance of cane fields is quite satisfactory, though some of them are in great need of cleaning and weeding.

At some places planters have already commenced preparing the ground for fall planting, and the water is fast subsiding in most of the inundated districts. It has been ascertained that about one-half of the cane recently planted in the fields that have been under water for several days has been destroyed, and it will be necessary to replant same.

At the last hour it has commenced to rain copiously again and it is reported that there are indications of a cyclone (the first one of the year) moving slowly on the southern side of the island. It is feared it might strike Cuba at any time, but such fears are rather unfounded, since meteors of this class, when formed in the earlier part of the season, generally recurve before reaching this island, and it is to be earnestly hoped that this year will not be an exception to the general rule.

Several complaints have been formulated this year against the objectionable quality and ill-keeping condition of sugars proceeding from certain plantations. Several are the causes assigned for this fault, which is attributed by some parties to injections of molasses in order to increase the weight of the sugar; others to chemical reactives employed in the manufacturing process, and, finally, to the grinding early in the season the cane planted last winter which ought to have been left for the end of the crop.

The idea has been started to appoint a committee of expert chemists and sugar makers to investigate into the matter, report to the board of planters the causes of the evil discovered by them, and point out the remedies whose application they deem most convenient and efficacious to put an end to the same.

No doubt can be entertained as to the recovery of the Cuban sugar industry from the downfall it experienced on account of the late war. From 1865 to 1890 the production ranged between 500 and 750 thousand tons. During the period comprised between 1891 and 1895 a marked improvement was noticed, since 1,054,000 tons were turned out in 1895. From said year, the first one of the war, the production decreased steadily to 225,000 in 1898-'99 and 335,000 tons in 1899-1900.

The most important obstacles to the rapid reconstruction of the Cuban sugar interests are, in the first place, the heavy investments to be made in order to put the large number of plantations that were more or less damaged during the past war in good producing condition, and, second, the lack of a sure market wherein to dispose of the totality of the proceeds of the island. A great deal of money is needed to replant the fields that have been burnt and more still to reconstruct the destroyed factories.

Another powerful drawback to the development of the sugar interests on this island is the competition of the bountied beet sugar, which has excluded cane sugars from the European markets and enters in a large proportion into the consumption of the United States.

Despite such adverse circumstances against which Cuban planters have to contend the crop just over has reckoned 600,000 tons, and it is expected that the coming one will aggregate from 800,000 to 850,000 tons, provided the weather be propitious to the cane and planters be able to find a sufficient number of laborers to handle such an enormous quantity of cane as is needed to transform it into sugar during the short period of three or three and a half months, at the utmost, when the plant yields the most and is in best condition to be ground.

With the exception of 50,000 or 60,000 tons, which are consumed in this island, all the sugar produced goes to the United States.

The reconstruction of the sugar industry in this island seems to have heretofore been realized through the replanting of the cane fields rather than by means of rebuilding the factories. Most of the plantations that were operated during the last crop are such as their proprietors, by means known to themselves, succeeded in saving from destruction. A well-equipped factory represents to-day an outlay of about one million dollars.

NEW SUGAR COMPANY.

North American Sugar Company Has Been Incorporated in New Jersey.

There has been a new sugar company formed by New York business men that bids fair to become one of the noted ones, says the Havana Post.

The new company styles itself the North American Sugar Company and was incorporated under the laws of the State of New Jersey, and has for its incorporators the following well-known business men and capitalists: George R. Fowler, Furman W. Lincoln, Charles D. Barry, John R. Bradlee, John W. Eisenhuth, Joseph C. Davis, Frederick W. Hope, and Enrique F. Martin.

All of the incorporators are well known in New York financial circles, and some of them are very well known in Havana and in Cuba generally.

Mr. E. F. Martin is a practical Cuban planter and is well known in Havana, and in fact all over the sugar producing part of Cuba. He has often been associated with deals in sugar and has the sugar business mastered. He will prove to be one of the most valuable members of the new company and they are to be congratulated in securing a man with so wide an experience as one of the company.

Another one of the company is Mr. George R. Fowler. Mr. Fowler will be recognized better as the sugar king of Cienfuegos. He has large interests in that city and is well known in Havana, passing through this city often on his way to Cienfuegos.

Messrs. Lincoln and Barry, also of the new company, are members of the great commission firm of Peabody & Co., which has branch offices in nearly all of the principal nations of the world and in all of the large cities of the United States.

The company was incorporated only a few days ago with a capital of $100,000.

IRON MINING AT CHIRIVICOS.

The June, 1901, Bulletin of the Bureau of American Republics says:

Iron mines were recently opened at Chirivicos, the first cargo of ore being shipped from the port on May 12. This cargo consisted of 2,200 tons and was destined for Sparrows Point for the use of the Maryland Steel Company.

PROPOSED LIGHTING AND POWER PLANT AT SANTIAGO.

Senor Eduardo J. Chiapas, a civil engineer of Guantanamo, is reported to be arranging for the erection of a lighting and power plant at Santiago de Cuba. This will comprise 240 arc lights, 6,000 incandescent lights, and power to be furnished to small consumers in and about the city. A complete steam plant will be installed, but later the power will be transmitted from the Guaso River waterfalls, a number of miles distant.

INDIA RUBBER IN CUBA.

The following extract, taken from an article published in the June, 1901, Bulletin of the Bureau of American Republics, says:

Until within the last few years it was generally thought that the cultivation of rubber-producing plants—rubber being a substance extracted from trees and wild plants, or plants which grow spontaneously—would not give satisfactory results; nor was it supposed, said plants and trees not being indigenous, that they could even be acclimated in countries having a suitable soil and climate for their growth. This idea has been gradually disappearing, and now it is proposed, with excellent prospects of success, to introduce this cultivation into Cuba. The articles published in the "Diario de la Marina," of Havana, by Mr. J. Roura, contain some interesting particulars regarding this subject. The following extract is made from the second of these articles:

"The fact that the rubber plant is not indigenous to Cuba is no reason why that should prejudice its cultivation, since Cuba, on account of climate, soil, and meteorological conditions, is equally if not better adapted to its growth than those countries which produce it spontaneously. As a general rule, the best climate for the rubber tree is that in which the temperature never falls below 10° C., and in which the rainy season comes with regularity to supply the ground with sufficient moisture to permit the assimilation of the vital juices so necessary to its productiveness. Consequently Cuba has an excellent climate for the cultivation of the rubber plant, and in proof of this assertion one has only to examine the trees which adorn some of her gardens and observe the luxuriance of their growth attained in a few years, in spite of their failure to possess all the conditions appropriate to their development, growing, as they do between walls, which tends to dry up their trunks.

"The rubber plants should be set out 4 or 5 meters apart, and given some shade where it is possible to do so. For this reason, when a plantation is made on land covered with forests, it should not be completely cleared, but some large trees should be left standing in order to protect the plants from the rays of the sun. When the clearing is finished and the valuable wood removed, the branches, cut up into small fragments, are scattered upon the ground in order to impede the undergrowth and to conserve the natural humidity of the soil. The place that each plant will occupy should be dug up to a depth of 40 centimeters and within a radius of 1 meter. In the center of this prepared ground the plant is placed, together with a wooden stake to support it and to prevent the drooping of the tender slip which later on might be the cause of a defective yield. The planting should never be made direct from the seed—that is to say, without having previously prepared a bed or nursery from which, at the expiration of eight months, transplantation may be made. At first thought it would seem to be better to plant from the seed direct, thereby saving labor, but this is not the case, because the most vigorous slips are selected from the nursery, and the replanting later on, which would cause an evident loss of trees of some years' growth, is avoided.

"The rubber-tree nursery is made like all tree nurseries that are propagated from the seed—that is to say, the ground is prepared, care being taken to do so under trees that give some shade, and at the same time, if it is possible, permit the entrance of the rays of the morning sun. Before planting the seeds of the rubber tree it is a good precaution to slightly file their ends in order to facilitate fertilization. The seeds should be placed 4 centimeters deep and at a distance of from 20 to 25 centimeters apart, so that in pulling up the plants those that remain in the nursery will not be damaged. An excellent precaution is to sow in the nursery 50 per cent. more than the seeds required, since, in addition to aiding in the selection of slips, it has the advantage of providing the plants which may be needed afterwards to replace those which may have been too badly injured in transplanting. Until the tree begins to produce it will be necessary to clear away the undergrowth twice annually and slightly loosen the soil around it. The clearing is made with a machete, the shrubs which have grown up being cut down and the ground dug up with a spade to kill the weeds and permit the penetration of nitrogen in the soil.

"In a previous article I said that generally the lands employed in cultivation of the rubber tree should be situated near rivers, canadas, brooks, or marshes for the purpose of obtaining sufficient moisture. But this does not mean to say that it is indispensable that they be flooded; on the contrary, it will be necessary to be careful that this does not happen, particularly in the first year, and if any land which may have been selected should become partially inundated, it will be advisable to make a ditch in its center, in the form of a horseshoe, to prevent the water from long remaining and occasioning damage.

"The price of a caballeria (33.3 acres) of land, in the condition which I mention in the foregoing, may be estimated at $300, a fair average price at the present time. A caballeria of land, placing the trees 5 meters apart, would accommodate 7,200 trees. Calculating the preparation of the ground, planting of the nurseries, and cultivation of the plants for five years at the rate of 40 cents per tree, a total is obtained of $2,880, to which must be added $300, the value of a caballeria of land, and $770, the average interest at the rate of 10 per cent. annually, or a total of $3,950, as the cost at the time they begin to produce, of a caballeria of ground planted with rubber trees. According to the most eminent naturalists and writers on agriculture who have studied the cultivation of the rubber plant, a tree will produce up to 4 kilograms of crude rubber, but in order to remain within reasonable limits I will take as a basis 1.3 kilograms each. Therefore 7,200 trees would produce 9,360 kilograms of crude rubber, which, at $1.50 per kilogram, would amount to $14,040. From this amount must be deducted the cost of extraction and evaporation of the milk, which is estimated at $6,840, or at the rate of 10 cents per kilogram of milk, leaving a net gain of $7,200, which is equal to $1 per tree. My experience in the cultivation that I have made up to the present time inclines me to think that there are few products that will give so favorable a result and which are less subject to those commercial fluctuations and meteorological variations which generally cause the poor results of the crops. It therefore seems to me that either on a large or a small scale the cultivation of the rubber tree is adapted to Cuba, and that it will constitute an additional element in the productions of the country.

LARGEST TOBACCO WAREHOUSE IN THE WORLD.

The great San Ambrosia tobacco warehouse, which was formerly the old Spanish military hospital, is about completed, says the Havana Post.

The building covers two city blocks, and is the second largest building in the city of Havana. The company which controls it for a tobacco warehouse occupies all the lower floor, while the second story is being arranged for a large school building.

The company which will operate this warehouse will revolutionize the marketing of Cuban tobacco. It is the largest business enterprise which has been inaugurated in Cuba for a great many years. The originator of the plan and the man who has carried it through to success is Mr. R. V. Williams, who has been interested in the marketing of tobacco since his arrival here.

The object of the company is to create a tobacco exchange on a large scale, where the growers may borrow money on their tobacco and place it within easy reach of the buyer. This plan will bring the grower and buyer together and arrange matters so as to greatly facilitate the handling of the crop. There is no doubt that the company will handle a large quantity of the tobacco produced, and in this way will remove the necessity of the buyer traveling over the island in order to make selections. To bring the buyer within easy reach of the grower the company has in the new warehouse provided a sample room, offices, libraries of statistical information and desks for all buyers who come here representing creditable firms.

All buyers who represent reputable houses will be provided with desk room at the warehouse free of charge and will be given every facility for inspecting and reporting upon the tobacco in hand. Other rooms have been set aside to rent to the extensive exporters of Cuba and some of these rooms have already been taken and occupied. All this will tend to consolidate the business in one locality and will make it most convenient for all concerned. The company will be managed by a competent board of directors who have had years of experience in the marketing of tobacco.

The building has been fitted up at a great expense and it is one of the best equipped establishments in the city. It faces the Tallapiedra wharf and will be convenient for the handling of the stock.

Tobacco is already being received there. In fact there are several thousand bales of this year's crop.

Growers look upon the establishment of this company with a great deal of favor, as it gives them an opportunity of holding their tobacco until it can be disposed of to advantage.

CUBA'S INDUSTRIES AND POSSIBILITIES.

Mr. Albert G. Robinson, in an article recently published in the Review of Reviews, says: The island of Cuba is a gigantic farm of 28,000,000 acres of marvelously fertile soil. Thirteen million acres remain as virgin forest. Her present population is a little above one and a half million.

Were Cuba as densely populated as Massachusetts, her census would show 11,000,000 inhabitants. An equal density with that of England would give her upward of 22,000,000. Her ability to support a population per square mile equivalent to that of England, so large a percentage of which is dependent upon manufacturing interests, is somewhat doubtful, from the fact that Cuba presents little or no possibility of ever becoming a manufacturing center. In a measure, the comparison with Massachusetts is also faulty, for the same reason. Yet, in the latter case, the vastly greater fertility of Cuban soil would offset the manufacturing feature, and there is little doubt that Cuba, along the line of her particular agricultural advantages, can provide a comfortable and reasonably profitable living for a population of 10,000,000 of moderately industrious citizens.

The census of 1889, prepared by American authority under the direction of General Sanger, gives the number of Cuban farms as 60,711. Of these, 38,550 are of less than eight acres in extent; 11,650 are between eight and sixteen acres; 7,300 only are upward of 150 acres. It is evident, therefore, that under present conditions Cuba is a land of small farmers, ten-twelfths representing the small farmer as against one-twelfth each of farms of fair area and estates of wide acreage. This is further supported by the fact that about 1,000,000, or two-thirds of the entire population, may be classed as being of the country, against one-third which is of the city. A considerable percentage of this urban population also, more or less directly, derives its living from Cuba's agricultural production.

Of Cuba's total area, only about 3 per cent. is now under cultivation. One of the surprising and impressive incidents of travel in Cuba is noted in journeying through the interior, particularly in the provinces of Santa Clara and Puerto Principe. One rides by train for hours, and by saddle for days, across vast savannas, covered, in great part, with rank grasses of three to four feet in height, and stretching away, seemingly as level as a floor, to the distant horizon on all sides. This is notably the case in Santa Clara. Puerto Principe is less flat, showing more of low, rolling hills; but there is the same vast expanse, for which few of us are prepared on our first visit to the interior of Cuba. All this means, some day, corn, beans, potatoes, sugar, tobacco, small fruits, vegetables for New York's winter market, grown under natural conditions of soil and climate, without forcing.

Roughly averaged, Cuba's commerce may be given, for normal years, as $100,000,000 worth of exports, and $60,000,000 worth of imports. Giving to Cuba that possible six or seven times her present population, and assuming no increase in proportionate production, she becomes an exporter of $700,000,000 and an importer of $420,000,000, which is a very tidy business for a little country. Such figures may appear to be fanciful—a kind of dream story—but they are nothing of the kind. It will probably be many years before Cuba can attain such an increase in her population and such an extension of her commerce, but such attainment and extension is a safe prophecy if one does not set the time limit too far on this side of the opening of another century.

During the six years 1890-'95, inclusive, Cuba averaged a sugar crop of a little less than 900,000 tons of 2,240 pounds per year. The total world-production is, approximately, 8,000,000 tons, divided, also approximately, into 3,000,000 tons of cane sugar and 5,000,000 from beets and other sources. Cuba is easily capable of producing 4,000,000 tons per year, and her limit of possibility is far from being reached at that figure. The cost of production in the island is not obtainable with any degree of accuracy. Much depends upon the advantages or disadvantages of the individual planter in matters of locality, shipping facilities, quality of soil, equipment of estate, financial resources, etc. Under reasonably favorable conditions and good business methods, Cuban sugar should stand the planter, for test grades of raw sugar free on board vessel for shipment, not far from $45 to $50 per long ton of 2,240 pounds. With Cuba a producer of her readily possible 4,000,000 tons, this item alone represents an export trade of some $200,000,000.

In some of her productive possibilities, Cuba fits into American interests as the hand fits the glove. Sugar is but one of them. Coffee is another, and cocoa is a third. For many years, Cuba has raised but little coffee. Planters found sugar a more profitable industry, and turned their attention in that direction. In the first quarter of the last century, Cuba was producing nearly 10,000 tons of coffee a year. In 1846, there were 1,600 coffee plantations on the island; in 1894, there were 191. In price, Cuba can never compete with the Brazilian coffee. But in that which to many is of far greater importance—quality—Brazil offers no competition. Cuba can grow the finest coffee in the world, and can grow a large percentage of the coffee which coffee-drinkers want to use. In quality, Porto Rico would be its rival, but Porto Rico has been putting about 25,000 tons per year of delicious coffee into the world-market, and few Americans have known of it, and fewer have tasted it. Porto Rico's utmost possible coffee production stops at about 50,000 tons, and the world uses about 1,200,000.

Cuba's tobacco production has heretofore been quite exclusively limited to special and high grades. In that department she has no competitor. Vuelta Abajo tobacco stands, with Sea Island cotton, Manila hemp, and a few other world-specialties, unique, incomparable. But Cuba can produce a very notable percentage of all the cigars used in this very smoky world.

The greater part of the Cuban tobacco trade is now in the hands of two or three large concerns that control the output, and, in many cases, stand behind the purchasers by advancing money on the crop. The application of this system is chiefly responsible for the very rapid recuperation, since the war, of the Cuban tobacco industry.

It is quite probable that there are several moderate fortunes waiting for those who will go to Cuba and grow strawberries in a business way. The same may be said of melons. By proper cultivation, strawberries may be produced every month in the year under natural conditions. Specially selected sites and artificial irrigation might be necessary, but the sites and the water are there for those who will make scientific study of a promising industry. Small watermelons of delicious sweetness and flavor, and muskmelons of excellent quality, make their appearance in the market early in the year. Pineapples are receiving considerable attention, and there are both promise and opening for wide extension of their cultivation. Cuba is a land of fruits and vegetables, and the great markets of America are open to her products. Many vegetables will produce two crops per year, and some are perennial. New York may well eat Cuban peas and tomatoes and strawberries, all fresh from the vines, at reasonable prices in mid-winter. With capital, cheap sugar, and intelligent direction, Cuban canned fruits and preserves might well become famous. Careful and intelligent investigation of Cuba's possibilities in fruits and vegetables will open many avenues for profitable investment. The Cuban "sisal grass" is of better quality than the Mexican, and the industry is hardly touched. The yucca is a plant whose root yields a highly superior starch.

It is officially estimated that there are 13,000,000 acres of virginal forest lands in Cuba. This is nearly one-half of the total area. The improvement of transportation facilities will bring some of this to market. It will include mahogany, ebony, granadilla, majagua, cedar, walnut, lignum-vitae, oak, and pine. There are more than thirty species of palm, some of which have special uses. But timber cutting and sawing are for the specialist who "knows a tree" and has had experience in "making sawdust." It is an unsafe industry for the uninitiated. For the expert, Cuba holds some promise when Santiago province, where most of the timber is located, is opened up by rail-ways.

What Cuba may yet offer to the prospector for minerals, no man can say. Yet, while it is certain that Cuba's wealth lies in that which it is possible to produce on her surface, there is no doubt that a modest amount of wealth lies under some portions of the surface. Santiago province has already yielded over 3,000,000 tons of iron ore. It is mainly hematite ore, found principally as "float" in great masses of boulders. It carries about 62 per cent. of iron, and is remarkably free from sulphur. There is no doubt that other and larger quantities will yet be opened up. There is also copper and manganese. Nothing, I believe, is being done with the copper, but some manganese has been taken out within recent years, and companies are now preparing for extensive operations in that material. Coal, asphaltum, and marble occur in various localities, but their abundance or their value has not yet been demonstrated. There are the usual rumors and legends of gold and silver.

Cuba is a land of unlimited promise, a sun-kissed spot with a marvelous soil. Here and there some other region may rival her in all natural advantages save that one of supreme importance—her closeness to the world's great markets.

No. 10, SERIES 1900-1901.

OF

COMMERCE OF THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

APRIL, 1901.

PREPARED IN

DIVISION OF INSULAR AFFAIRS,

WAR DEPARTMENT.

EXPLANATION OF REGULAR STATISTICAL TABLES.

General imports.—The regular statement of imports of merchandise, by articles and countries, in this publication is what is termed the statement of general imports, embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse.

The term “entry for consumption” is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties on the dutiable portion have been paid.

The values of articles imported are governed by the regulations in effect May 1, 1899, which prescribe that the values of imported merchandise subject to duty shall be “the actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation in the principal markets of the country from whence imported, and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation or consigned for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment.”

Domestic exports.—The regular statement of domestic exports, by articles and countries, in this publication exhibits the exports of domestic products or manufactures, also exports of commodities of foreign origin which have been changed from the form in which they were imported or enhanced in value by further manufacture.

The value of exports of domestic merchandise is their value at the time of exportation in the ports of the island whence they are exported.

Tonnage tables.—In the tables of tonnage movement the tonnage is stated in net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying space after the prescribed allowances are made for crew space, engine space, etc.

Weights.—In all tables published the ton weight is 2,240 pounds and the hundredweight is 112 pounds, unless indicated otherwise.

Customs districts.—Statements of imports, exports, and tonnage movement are shown by customs districts, which have a certain prescribed limit of territory with a port of entry.

NOTES.

NEW HAVANA TOBACCO EXCHANGE.

The Havana Cigar is authority for the statement that The National Bank of Cuba, recently organized, has secured a long lease of the large warehouse built by the Spanish government in 1752, when it held a monopoly of the tobacco trade of Cuba. The building covers three city blocks, and is two stories high, and will have a capacity of 75,000 bales of tobacco on the main floor.

Extensive repairs and improvements are now being made, and when finished it will be thrown open for the reception of tobacco all over the island. The upper floors will be principally used for stripping purposes. Branch warehouses and offices have also been secured at Pinar del Rio and Camajuani.

At this exchange, planters, buyers, and sellers will meet to transact their business and make arrangements for the receipt of tobacco from other points. Space will be sublet to dealers who desire to forward the project of a central depot for the tobacco of Cuba. Those who have already applied for accommodations are Juan Pino, Adolfo Moeller, Luis Marx, and Elloriaga Masteleira y Ca. Many others are expected to join in the movement.

The warehouse will be under the supervision of a board of directors from the ranks of the growers, packers and exporters. The present board contains the names of Calixto Lopez, of Calixto Lopez y Ca; Juan Pino, of Pino, Villamil y Ca; Venacio Sierra, and Ramon V. Williams.

Expert inspectors have been engaged to classify all tobaccos sent to the house, and certificates will be issued accordingly.

Offices, with ample desk accommodations for the business comfort of visiting buyers, are now being arranged.

It is expected that this radical change will make quite a revolution in existing methods of transacting business. The bank will make loans, up to a reasonable amount, and at prevailing rates, on all tobaccos sent to them for storage.

MORE CONTRACTS FOR SUGAR MACHINERY.

The Krawjewski-Pesant Company, of New York city, reports receipt of contracts aggregating over $100,000 for sugar machinery, etc., to be installed in various plantations in Cuba, Porto Rico, Mexico and the Hawaiian Islands, says the Commercial Bulletin. A 26 x 78 cane crusher, together with a 22 x 30 slide valve engine, has been ordered by the Central San Jose, Cardenas, Cuba. A $100,000 order for improvements on evaporating plants has been received from the Central Santo Filomena, Matanzas, Cuba. The Oalui Plantation Company, of Honolulu, has requisitioned for additions to its crushing plant. M. Bird, of Central Patilla, Porto Rico, has sent an order for an 8-foot complete vacuum pan (including pumps, platform, etc.) A. Monrorg, of San Juan, Porto Rico, has contracted for a complete triple effect plant, having a heating surface of 5,000 feet, with platform pumps and condensers. S. A. Masso, of Aquadilla, Porto Rico, wants four defecators. Successarres de Tomas de la Torre, of Hacienda San Carlo, Mexico, has forwarded an order for eight defecators, while the Central Ramona, Sagua, Cuba, is to be shipped a 26 x 72 double-gearred cane crushing mill. All the above equipments, with the exception of the pumps and possibly the condensers, will be manufactured at the Erie Basin Iron Works. The Krawjewski-Pesant Company have also received orders for some $15,000 worth of miscellaneous tools and supplies, etc. Orders for same will, it is said, be given out to local concerns this week.

TRADE WITH CUBA.

It is observed * * * that the exports of the United States to Cuba are not increasing, says the New York Journal of Commerce; in seven months of this year they were less than in seven months of last year. Cuban trade with some European nations is relatively increasing, and there was a large increase in the importations from Germany, and a very great relative increase in the imports from British North America, though the actual amount of the imports was not great.

Cuban food will be drawn from this country; that was largely the case even under the Spanish Government; it must be very much more so when there is no discrimination in the Cuban tariff against American flour. Our exports of manufactured goods have been increasing of late years, chiefly in lines for which Cuba is not an especially good market. The sugar plantations furnish a good market for a certain kind of machinery; for other machinery there is extremely limited demand. We have been sending out great quantities of electric machinery, but this is most in demand where there is a dense population to support electric car lines and electric lighting and motive power. Cuban needs in these directions are very moderate.

It is a matter of complaint in this country that Cuba imports so little of our cotton goods. It was asserted a year or so ago that the insular tariff was unfavorable to our manufacturers. The Cuban tariff was adapted in its classifications to the wants and customs of the local market. If our manufacturers desired the Cuban trade the way was open to them to adapt their methods to the habits of the Cuban people. They insisted, however, that the tariff should be amended in order to give them a better chance without making any changes. The complaint is still made that the Cubans buy European cotton goods when we have cottons which we should like to sell them.

It ought not to be necessary to remind business men that in the extension of trade, price is the most important single element. It may be offset in part, but it must always dominate; it is more important than all the other elements put together. Are our manufacturers offering cottons at prices as low as those of European manufacturers? If not, we should say it was needless to seek any farther, for the reason that our trade in that direction is no larger. Business is said to be without sentiment, and yet we have observed the argument emanating from business quarters that Cubans ought to buy our cotton goods because we freed her from Spain. Cuba will do nothing of the kind. Spain is buying largely of us, because she finds it advantageous to do so; Cuba will buy largely of us when it is advantageous to do so, and otherwise not. We would do the same thing. The Revolutionary War was hardly over when we were importing merchandise from England in spite of the protests of some emotional patriots and the reproaches of France who had helped us secure our independence and expected us to buy her wares. The Revolutionary War was still going on when the money that France advanced to us was spent, not in France, but in Holland, in the purchase of cloth undoubtedly made in England, for uniforms for our troops. The King of France protested, but the American reply was that business was business, and we must spend the money where we could get the best return for it, even if we used the money of our ally in patronizing the factories of our enemy.

We lately reproduced statistics forwarded by our Consul in Manchester, showing that British exports of cotton goods to South America were vastly greater than our own. In this report it was stated that the average value of British cotton cloth was $4\frac{1}{2}$ cents, and of American 5 cents. Is not a difference of 10 per cent. enough to divert the course of trade? Can our manufacturers expect to get foreign markets away from England and Germany if our prices are higher than theirs? It is a common thing to see discussions of our South American commerce cover every point and dwell especially upon the least important influences, or allege influences that do not exist, such as the lack of transportation facilities, and persistently ignore a difference in price which is more important than all other considerations. Our tariff law is based upon the assumption that our prices are higher than those of Europe. If that be the fact, how do we expect to drive Europe out of the Cuban and South American markets?

No doubt concessions on Cuban tobacco would promote trade, and we have no doubt that they could be made without serious injury to our tobacco interests, though these will protest that any relaxation of the tariff would be disastrous to them. But the Cubans are entirely capable of selling their tobacco here and buying their cotton cloth in Europe, and we are entirely capable of doing the same sort of thing.

COMMERCE OF THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS OF MERCHANDISE, APRIL, 1901.

[NOTE.—Beginning July 1, 1900, the statistical reports to the Division of Insular Affairs were based upon a new schedule, giving the classification of commodities imported and exported much more in detail than were required by the schedule in effect prior to that date. MONTHLY SUMMARY

OF

COMMERCE OF THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

MAY, 1901.

PREPARED IN

DIVISION OF INSULAR AFFAIRS,

WAR DEPARTMENT.

EXPLANATION OF REGULAR STATISTICAL TABLES.

General imports.—The regular statement of imports of merchandise, by articles and countries, in this publication is what is termed the statement of general imports, embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse.

The term “entry for consumption” is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties on the dutiable portion have been paid.

The values of articles imported are governed by the regulations in effect May 1, 1899, which prescribe that the values of imported merchandise subject to duty shall be “the actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation in the principal markets of the country from whence imported, and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation or consigned for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment.”

Domestic exports.—The regular statement of domestic exports, by articles and countries, in this publication exhibits the exports of domestic products or manufactures, also exports of commodities of foreign origin which have been changed from the form in which they were imported or enhanced in value by further manufacture.

The value of exports of domestic merchandise is their value at the time of exportation in the ports of the island whence they are exported.

Tonnage tables.—In the tables of tonnage movement the tonnage is stated in net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying space after the prescribed allowances are made for crew space, engine space, etc.

Weights.—In all tables published the ton weight is 2,240 pounds and the hundredweight is 112 pounds, unless indicated otherwise.

Customs districts.—Statements of imports, exports, and tonnage movement are shown by customs districts, which have a certain prescribed limit of territory with a port of entry.

NOTES.

CEMENT WORKS AT HAVANA.

Havana is to have cement works as large as the ordinary cement works of the United States, and what is better still, the company is to manufacture cement equal to anything which has ever been manufactured in the United States, says the Havana Post.

Years ago the Almendares Cement Company located on the Almendares River between Havana and Marianao, and on what is known as the General Lee road, established a cement factory and manufactured what has been known as Cemento Cuba. At first the cement did not give satisfaction, but the company has continued to experiment and to manufacture cement until to-day they are turning out as good Portland cement as was ever manufactured in the United States. Some of the firms in Havana who have been using this cement say that they have used a considerable quantity of it and that it is equal to anything that can be imported from the United States.

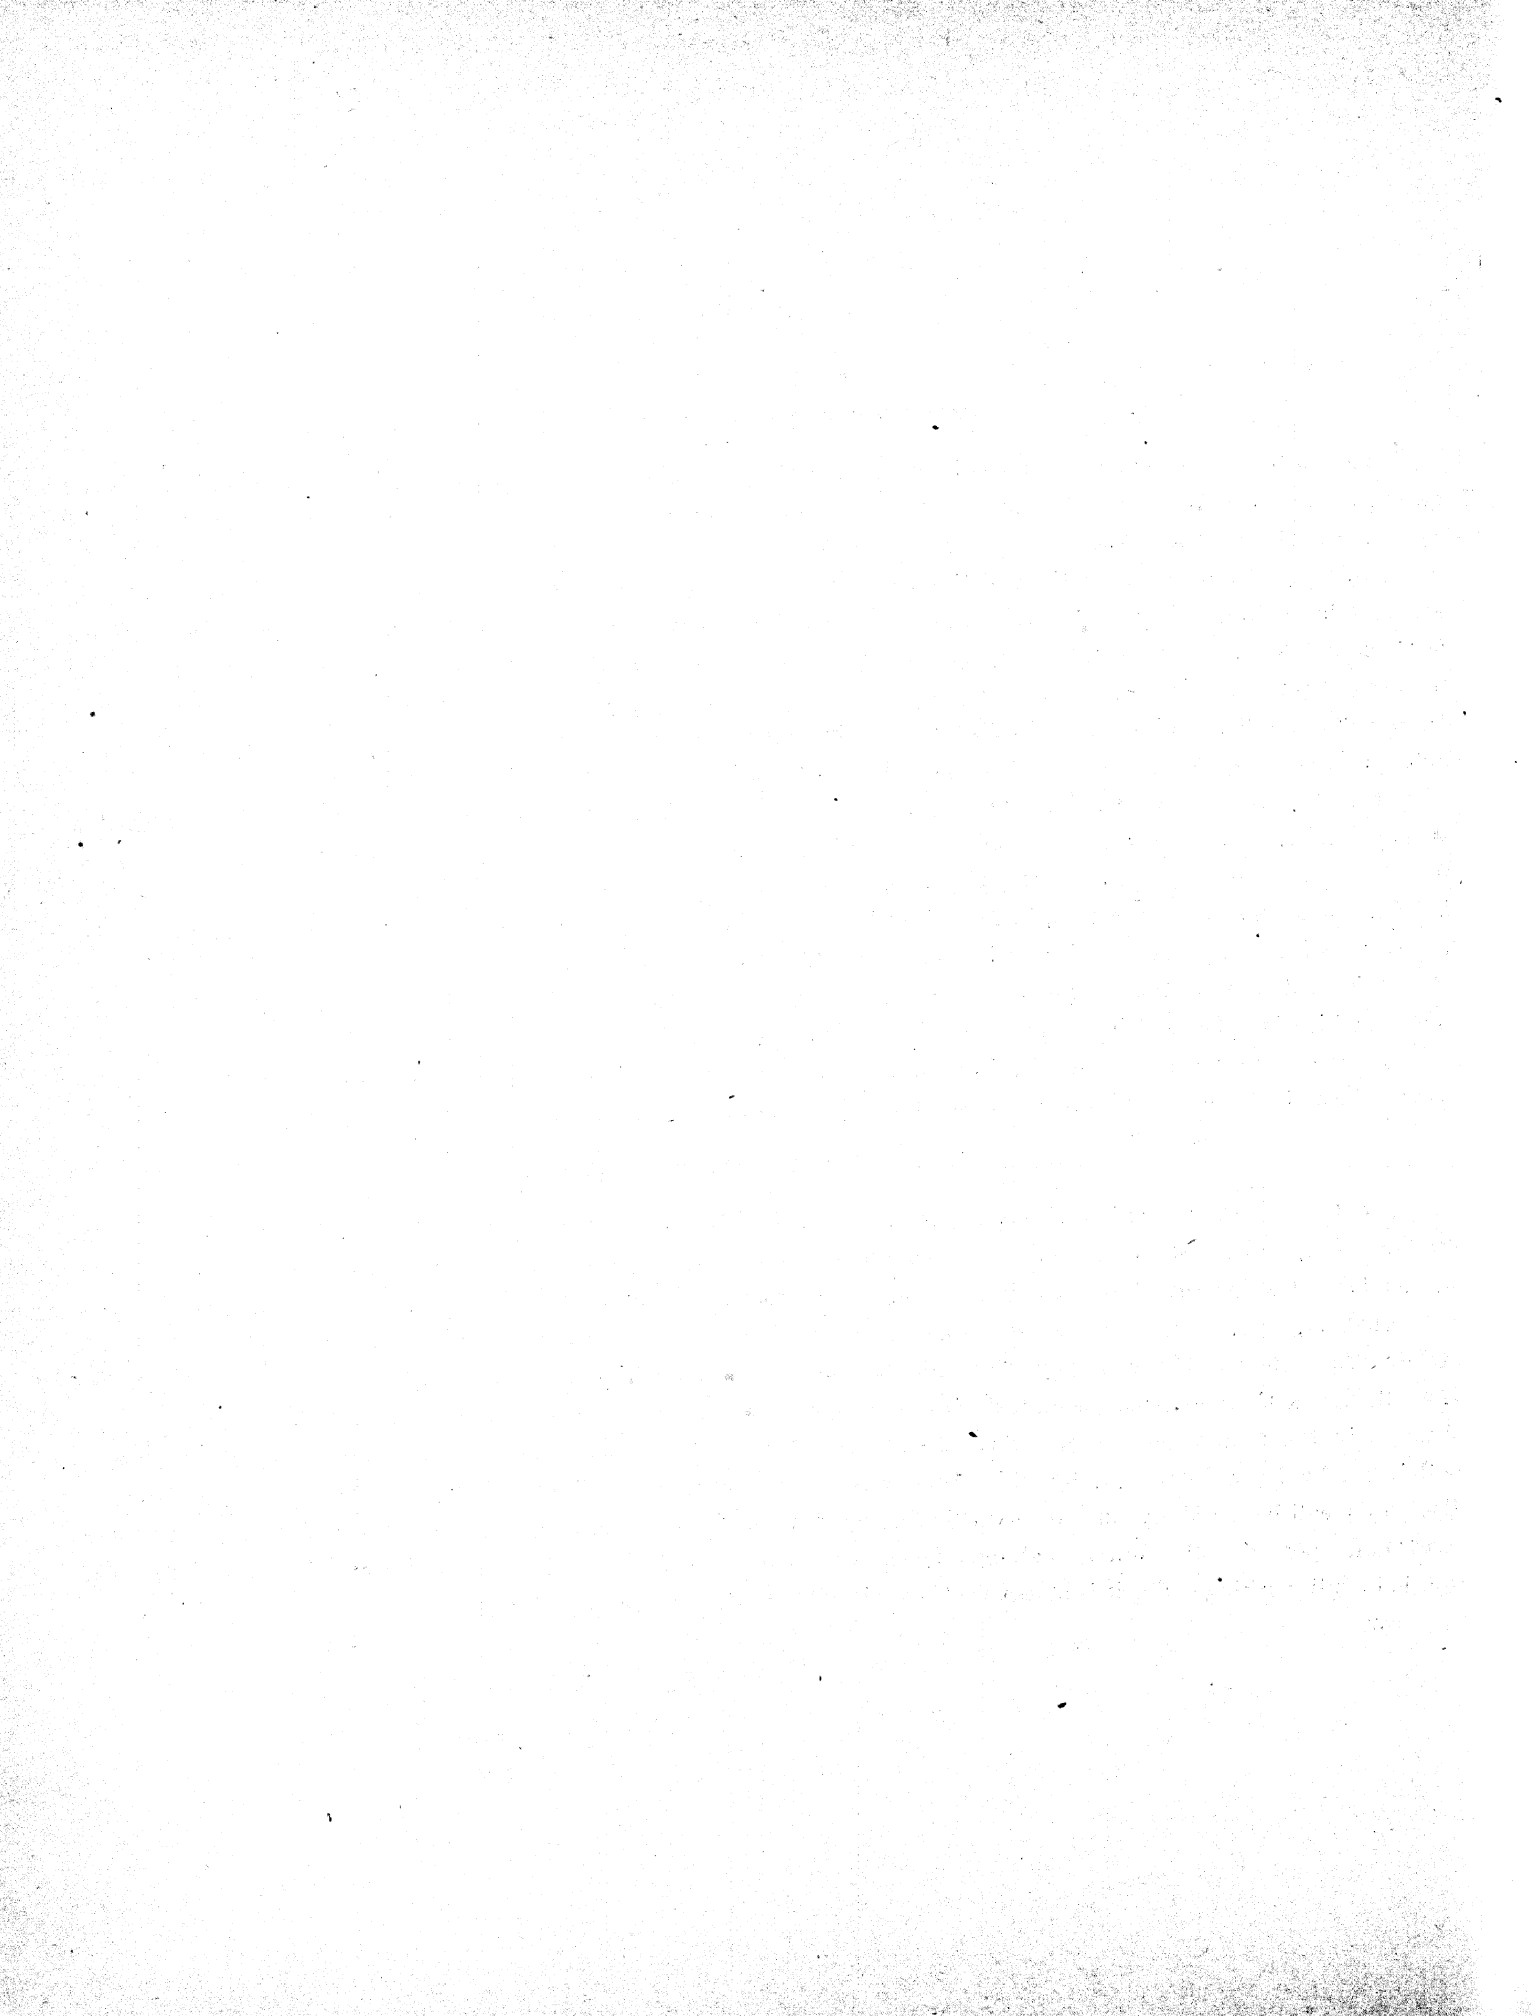

Having succeeded in turning out a good product the company determined to increase its capacity. This step was decided upon about a year ago, and additional buildings were constructed. Now, however, the managers have in course of construction one of the largest cement works on the western continent. There is at present a large building in course of construction, but this is only a preliminary step in the direction of increasing facilities. The company is increasing its capacity and will continue to do so for some time to come.

It is evident that the company is counting on getting the contract for supplying the city of Havana with the cement which is to be used in the paving and sewerage contract.

Being the only company of the kind on the island and manufacturing a good quality of cement, the company has the best chance for supplying all orders, and when the time comes it will be in a position to supply the demand.

SUGAR MACHINERY FOR CUBA.

The New York Journal of Commerce is authority for the statement that the Whitney Iron Works, of New Orleans, La., have just made a shipment of no less than 50 carloads of sugar machinery for Cuba. This is said to be the largest shipment of its description ever made from that Southern port. The machinery consisted of mills and crushers, etc., which are intended to serve as equipment for the Chaparra Sugar Company, whose offices are at 109 Wall street. The company, of which ex-Congressman Hawley, of Texas, is president, and in which B. H. Howell, Son & Co. and other prominent New York concerns are largely interested, owns about 60,000 acres of land situated in the eastern portion of Cuba. Nearly 10,000 acres are already planted with cane. Grinding operations will begin by December next, by which time it is expected some 300,000 tons of cane will be ready to be handled. The mills will have a daily capacity for grinding 3,000 tons of cane. Power is to be derived from a steam plant of 6,000-horse power. The contracts already given out entail an expenditure of fully $750,000, and before the plantation is in full working order it is stated that over $2,000,000 will be spent on the property.

SUMMARY.

COMMERCE OF THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS OF MERCHANDISE, MAY, 1901.

[NOTE.—Beginning July 1, 1900, the statistical reports to the Division of Insular Affairs were based upon a new schedule, giving the classification of commodities imported and exported much more in detail than were required by the schedule in effect prior to that date. Owing to this change it is impossible to make comparison by articles and countries in some instances.]

No. 12, SERIES 1900-1901.

OF

COMMERCE OF THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

JUNE, 1901.

PREPARED IN

DIVISION OF INSULAR AFFAIRS,

WAR DEPARTMENT.

EXPLANATION OF REGULAR STATISTICAL TABLES.

General imports.—The regular statement of imports of merchandise, by articles and countries, in this publication is what is termed the statement of general imports, embracing imported articles entered for immediate consumption on arrival and articles entered for warehouse.

The term “entry for consumption” is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties on the dutiable portion have been paid.

The values of articles imported are governed by the regulations in effect May 1, 1899, which prescribe that the values of imported merchandise subject to duty shall be “the actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation in the principal markets of the country from whence imported, and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation or consigned for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment.”

Domestic exports.—The regular statement of domestic exports, by articles and countries, in this publication exhibits the exports of domestic products or manufactures, also exports of commodities of foreign origin which have been changed from the form in which they were imported or enhanced in value by further manufacture.

The value of exports of domestic merchandise is their value at the time of exportation in the ports of the island whence they are exported.

Tonnage tables.—In the tables of tonnage movement the tonnage is stated in net tons of 100 cubic feet carrying space after the prescribed allowances are made for crew space, engine space, etc.

Weights.—In all tables published the ton weight is 2,240 pounds and the hundredweight is 112 pounds, unless indicated otherwise.

Customs districts.—Statements of imports, exports, and tonnage movement are shown by customs districts, which have a certain prescribed limit of territory with a port of entry.

NOTES.

On account of the importance at this time of accurate and exhaustive statistics of Cuban sugar productions and trade, the Division of Insular Affairs of the War Department has compiled the following tables in which the utmost precaution has been taken to procure accurate data on this subject.

The Cuban authorities were called upon to make a re-examination. The sugar records at a number of ports were found to be incomplete and at others incorrect. In several cases the corrected data was obtained from the books of the exporters themselves.

The lack of uniformity in prices for the same month, as shown in the following tables, is due to the difference in the quality of the sugars. Some ingenios produce a better, that is, a more refined sugar than other ingenios, and this difference in grade determines the price. This in large part explains the gross irregularities in the prices obtained for sugar exported to countries other than the United States. For example, the sugar which Havana exported to Spain was the American refined article re-shipped. Other shipments, some of them bringing less than two cents per pound, were mixtures of sugar and syrup, the third-class article, and were brought by ships' masters for consumption on board their vessels

It is impossible to obtain absolutely accurate quantities in dealing with raw sugar. It is a simple matter to count the bags and to learn the value; but the number of pounds cannot be determined with exactness. A slight difference in polarization or even in the temperature and humidity of the atmosphere affects the weight of crude sugar. A shipment may have a certain weight at the central; another at the port of export; and still a third at the port of import or at the refinery in the United States. This variation may not be perceptible in a unit, but in millions of pounds it becomes a quantity that must be recognized.

The records of the several ports and of the Insular Division have been revised accordingly, the following tables showing the corrected figures as to exports of sugar :

MINERAL DEPOSITS IN CUBA.

The New York correspondent of the "Havana Post," under date of October 12, 1901, in an article published in that paper, says:

"It is probable that one of the best fields for investment in Cuba is in the development of the asphaltum deposits in which the island abounds. Mr. Vaughn, an expert geologist, in speaking of this subject, said that this material is found in more or less quantity in almost every part of the island, the quality being much finer in some places than in others. The ever growing demand for asphaltum and the fact that the supply is now limited to a few localities makes the discovery of new deposits a matter of considerable importance. At present one of the richest asphaltum fields is in Venezuela and a revolution in that republic was only narrowly averted because of quarrels between the two competing companies for the privilege of removing the material. If further investigation should prove that the deposits in Cuba are as extensive and as rich as surface appearances indicate, it would add another to the long list of industries of the island. Thus far no attempt has been made to work the asphalt deposits on an extensive scale or with modern machinery. A few small plants have been established and the material has been taken out under a crude system. The most pretentious plant is near Havana, and is operated by an American firm. Asphaltum occurs more frequently and in larger quantities in the provinces of Santa Clara and Matanzas. In many places along the northern coast and south of Cardenas and eastward it is encountered in a fluid and in some places it comes to the surface in this condition. Roughly estimated, the tract of country exhibiting surface indications of fluid bitumen from wells, covers an area of 150 miles long and 30 wide. One of the largest tracts is about 37 miles east of Cardenas, where the substance has oozed from the earth for many years past. For a great distance about the well the ground is as hard as a floor and black with asphalt. From a hole in the center of this tract there issues a soft maltha that is very sticky. This comes out of the ground and flows in all directions, saturating everything. Several other holes of a like nature are near by. In one corner of this tract a square hole has been dug and walled up. During the late war this hole was fired and burned for months until a heavy rain finally put it out. Other wells were found in the same vicinity and efforts to reach the bottom of them indicated that the deposits were well nigh inexhaustible. Very extensive deposits of solid asphaltum exist near the north coast of Cuba. Springs and wells there indicate the existence of liquid bitumen of varying density beneath the surface over an area of some 4,500 square miles. The government geologists encountered asphaltum 12 miles outside of Havana, in Campo Florida, where it came to the surface along the cracks in syenite rocks."

When Mr. Vaughn was asked his opinion about the advisability of investing money in working the asphaltum deposits of Cuba, he said:

"There is no doubt that there are deposits of asphalt in the island that would well repay the investment of money in their development. Before such investments are made, however, the most careful investigation should be carried on to determine as fully as possible the amount of material under the surface. These surface indications, though exhibited on a large scale and over a wide area, are not in any manner in themselves a source of prospective wealth and are rather only an incentive to cautious and very careful prospective drilling."

Geologists found traces of the presence of gold in Cuba, and in fact located places where placer mines had been operated in the northern part of the province of Santa Clara. They were long since abandoned, however, and, as Mr. Vaughn says, there is no knowledge at the present time of any occurrence of gold of value at other spots in the island. As is well known, Cuba is rich in iron deposits, the iron ore products of the southwestern provinces, especially in the vicinity of Santiago, constituting an important source of wealth. Manganese is found in various parts of Cuba, but, as a usual thing, it does not occur in great quantities. There are no copper mines in actual operation at present. At El Cobre, a few miles west of Santiago, there were formerly some copper mines which yielded good returns to the investors.

A new company has been formed and recently organized for the purpose of re-opening those old copper mines and working them with modern machinery. The preliminary work of this new corporation has already begun. There are other copper prospects in the same province which are now being opened up. In fact, there seems to be a sort of a revival in the copper mining industry of Cuba, and special attention is being paid to this business. In the province of Santa Clara, about six miles north of the city of that name, there is a copper mill which has been operating successfully for some time. Fifteen miles north of Cienfuegos there are three or four old mines which were closed during the recent revolution in the island, and which are now being re-opened.

Geologists also paid a visit to the Isle of Pines. Extensive marble quarries were found there, possessing considerable commercial value. The stone occurs in granular form, thoroughly crystalline, and is found in several different colors. There are no minerals worthy of notice on the Isle of Pines. Throughout the coast of Cuba there are caves in the hills that are populated by tremendous numbers of bats. Guano has collected in these caves for years and years back, and the geologists believe that it would pay handsomely to remove this material and ship it to the United States to be used in fertilizing the Southern farms.

A NEW WORK TO BE UNDERTAKEN IN CUBA.

[From the Havana Post of Sept. 8, 1901.]

The Art Stone Company, of Columbus, O., John A. McDowell, manager, has taken up the work of building cement houses, cement steel arch bridges and floors and other concrete work.

They have secured the H. S. Palmer patent process and machine for making hollow blocks in this market and are doing a good business. They have just closed the contract for furnishing all the outside stone work in the new row of flats to be built on Hubbard avenue and Park streets by Mr. Charles Schenck, owner, and Mr. R. Z. Dawson, architect.

Upon the completion of the work for this building they will go to Newark to get out the material for a $20,000 residence to be built by Attorney Fitzgibbon, of that city. The stone will be covered with green material, which has been imported from Germany, and will be much richer in appearance than any natural green stone, with only two-thirds the cost.—Cement and Engineering News.

The rights to use the Palmer Hollow Concrete Building Blocks, and to erect buildings on the principle patented by H. S. Palmer, in the Island of Cuba, Puerto Rico, and the West Indies, has been purchased by Mr. Howard Egleston, who now has two of the machines in operation in his new building on Figuras street, near the city stables. He has already made about 1,000 blocks and with a portion of them has constructed a small office building to show the many advantages these hollow blocks have over the stone and brick now commonly used.

Mr. Egleston intends to organize companies in all the principal cities in Cuba, as soon as possible, they to be operated by the local incorporators, and given exclusive right to make and sell these building blocks in their territory. It is expected that a Havana company will be formed soon to take over and conduct the business now being established by Mr. Egleston.

The situation chosen for the manufactory is most admirably situated for the business, and also for a store yard for the various materials Mr. Egleston deals in, for being on the water front, the sand that is used in making the building blocks can be brought by lighter directly to the factory, and all kinds of merchandise can be landed directly from the harbor lighters.

CUBA GROWING RUBBER.

The Soil Has Been Shown to be Suitable for That Industry.

The rubber industry seems to bid fair to come in time one of the important ones in Cuba.

Mr. Martinez Castro, in a communication to the "Havana Post," says: "It is of easy cultivation and little cost, producing a good interest, and there is no necessity of employing any machinery nor costly labor, as it is the case with sugar or tobacco that requires much money and is great risk.

The rubber product of the Siphonia Caucha tree, which is called Guttapercha, according to Mr. Charles Good-year, has many applications in medical science, in machinery, submarine cables and telegraphy, substituting the other materials, as leather, whalebone, tortoise shell, ebony, etc., rubber tires for cabs, automobiles, bicycles, and articles for ladies' use are made with this product.

The rubber tree is already acclimated in this province at the pasture grounds of Mr. Jose Gabriel del Castillo,

"El Aljibe," where he has hundreds of them of such great exuberance as those of inter-tropical regions of America. They were brought from both hemispheres as far back as 1830 and there are among them some specimens more than 65 years old.

COMMERCE OF HAMBURG WITH CUBA.

Mr. Richard Guenther, Consul-General at Frankfort, under date of September 10, 1901, in his report to the Department of State, says :

"Advices from Hamburg state that Cuban purchases of German goods, since the cessation of hostilities, have increased considerably. During the years 1895, 1896, and 1897, Hamburg shipped to Cuba between $470,000 and $700,000 worth each year ; in 1898, $400,000; in 1899, 1,400,000; and in 1900 goods to the value of over $2,000,000. Statistics of Hamburg exports to Cuba cover no less than 130 groups of goods. Exports of rice increased from $261,000 in 1889 to $785,000 in 1900 ; articles of iron, from $166,000 to $190,000 ; malt, from $14,000 to $36,000 ; cotton goods, from $35,000 to $66,700 ; hosiery, from $117,000 to 120,000 ; passementerie goods, from $28,000 to $45,700 ; paper, from $48,000 to $77,800 ; toys, from $43,000 to $55,700 ; etc.

"The exports from Cuba to Hamburg have increased also. They fell from $3,800,000 in 1895 to $1,590,000 in 1898, but rose to $3,000,000 in 1899 and to $3,142,000 in 1900. Cigars and tobacco are the principal exports ; wax, woods and hides are also sent."

IMMIGRANTS FOR CUBA.

Nearly Fifteen Hundred on Their Way to Make Homes Here—Are of Best Class.

An Associated Press dispatch from Barcelona to the "Havana Post," says : "Nearly fifteen hundred Gallego immigrants have sailed aboard two transatlantic steamers, the Leon XIII and La Navarre.

"The steamers have left for Cuba and will land their passengers in Havana, with the exception of about one hundred, who are bound for Mexico.

"The immigrants are of the very best class, all of them being of the hard-working class and the very kind of which Cuba is in the most need.

"This is but the first of many expeditions which are being organized to go to Cuba this winter, and it is thought that fully twenty thousand will leave to colonize the island.

"Arrangements are said to have been made for extra steamers to accommodate the rush of immigrants, which has already commenced. Many hundreds will be taken by the regular steamers, but they will not be sufficient to supply the demand."

ORANGE CULTURE IN WESTERN CUBA.

Pinar del Rio is noted for its tobacco, and it will soon be known for its oranges as well, says a special correspondent of the "Havana Advertiser." The light red sandy soil is just what is needed for their culture, and a recent visitor from California remarked on the similarity of the conditions with those of Redlands. As the latter town produces what is probably the finest orange in the world, the force of the compliment may be readily seen. The soil is a light reddish sand, but not the deep red which is found nearer Havana province.

On the good land, the sand continues to the subsoil and one may dig down as far as he wishes without striking clay. Visiting orange experts are enthusiastic over this condition and they declare without exception that better ground does not exist on the island.

Pinar del Rio is admirably adapted for shipping purposes. To the south fifteen miles of macadamized road runs to the seaport town of Coloma and from there steamers regularly go to Havana and other ports. Other towns which have to use a railroad are thus placed at a disadvantage, for they have to make five changes of freight as against three in the case of Pinar del Rio. They would be obliged to put the oranges on a wagon, thence on the cars, load on awagon in Havana, then into the lighter, and lastly onto the steamer. In Pinar the oranges would be loaded on a wagon, thence transferred to a Coloma steamer and from this to the steamer which will take them north. Considering the height of railroad charges, Pinar has an enormous advantage in her water transportation.

If one chooses to use the railroad, well and good, for this fall the Western Railroad is to make an extension and Pinar will have yet another port near the Yucatan Channel.

The poor returns received hitherto from tobacco have caused about every American tobacco grower to plant oranges as well. Many are simply supporting themselves by tobacco until their trees are grown, and if oranges eventually pay more than tobacco, the culture of the latter will receive a heavy set-back. * * *

Cuba is fortunate in being situated next to Florida, as she will profit by the latter's misfortune. After the war hundreds of orange growers, driven away by the frost, settled near Havana, but they soon returned to their Florida homes discouraged at the seeming impossibility of getting a small tract of land with a good title.

• GERMAN STEAMSHIP LINE TO CUBA.

Bremen, Nov. 16.—The North German Lloyd steamer Stolberg, Capt. Burosse, which sails from this port to-day, initiates a new service to Cuba. She takes a full cargo for Havana, and touches at Corunna and Villagarica, Spain, to pick up passengers.
